FRIENDSHIP OF THE WORLD.

Hast thou gone to the world, and tried its power,
When thy soul was bowed down with its load of cares?
And what didst thou meet in that darken'd hour—
Has it soothed thy sorrow, and dried thy tears?

Did it meet thee with love, in that time of wo,
And give to thy troubled spirit rest?
Did kindness and sympathy gently flow,
In healing balm o'er thy stricken breast?

Did it leave its gay revels, and come to thine aid,
To cheer thy deep gloom with winning smiles?
Did it quit the bright sunshine, and seek the dark shade?
To dispel every cloud by its magic wiles?

No—it coldly looked on as the mourner passed by;
It held no communion with anguish and grief:
Its aspect was chilling—no beam from that eye
Gave a glimmer of hope or a glance of relief!

But what didst thou meet at the throne of thy God,
When the voice of thy mourning ascended on high!
Wert thou harshly repulsed from that glorious abode,
And left in thy hopeless dispondence to die?

THAT theme is too mighty—it soars from our reach;
The tongue of a seraph those mercies should tell—
The words should be uttered in heavenly speech,
For the lips of a mortal are bound by a spell!

A soft gentle whisper just comes from below,
Like the voice of the Spirit—the life-giving Dove,
It exhales from that heart where those mercies o'erflow,
And breathes forth its tribute of Infinite Love!

"SPEAK GENTLY TO THE ERRING."

Speak gently to the erring—
Ye know not all the power
With which the dark temptation came
In some unguarded hour.
Ye may not know how earnestly,
They struggled, or how well,
Until the hour of weakness came,
And sadly thus they fell!

Speak gently to the erring—
Oh! do not thou forget,
However darkly stained by sin,
He is thy brother yet.
Heir of the self-same heritage,
Child of the self-same God,
He hath but stumbled in the path
Thou hast in weakness trod.

Speak kindly to the erring—
For is it not enough
That innocence and peace are gone,
Without thy censure rough?
It surely is a weary lot
That sin-crushed heart to bear:
And they who share a happier fate
Their chidings well may spare.

Speak kindly to the erring—
Thou yet may'st lead him back,
With holy words, and tones of love,
From Misery's thorny track;
Forget not thou hast often sinn'd,
And sinful yet must be;
Deal kindly with the erring one,
As God hath dealt with thee!

Miscellaneous.

A Beautiful Illustration.

A florist will tell you that if you paint the flower-pot that contains a favorite, beautiful, fragrant flower, the plant will wither, and perhaps its blossoms will die. You shut out the air and moisture from passing through the earth to the roots, and your paint itself is poisonous. Just so, mere external cultivation, superficial, worldly accomplishment, or a too exclusive anxiety and regard for that, injures the soul. The vase may be ever so beautifully ornamented, but if you deny the water of life to the flower, it must die.—And there are kinds of ornamental accomplishments, the very process of which is as deleterious to the soul, as the paint upon the flower-pot is pernicious to the plant; whose delicate leaves not only inhale a poisonous atmosphere during your very process of rendering the exterior more tasteful, but the whole earth is dried and devoid of nourishment. Nature never paints, but all her forms of loveliness are a growth, a native character, possession, and development, from the beginning. If the sun can ever be called a painter, it is only because the plants absorb his rays, and receive them into the very texture and life of their vegetation. So, whatever is real knowledge, wisdom, principle, character, and life in education, is a process of the absorption and development of truth, and is not mere painting.—Rev. Dr. Chester's Plea for Children.

The Folly of Pride.

The witty and sarcastic Rev. Sydney Smith, for many years one of the contributors to the great English Reviews, thus discourseth on the folly of pride in such a creature as man:

"After all, take some quiet, sober moment of life, and add together the two ideas of pride and of man. Behold him, creature of a span high, stalking through infinite space in all the grandeur of littleness. Perched on a speck of the universe, every wind of heaven strikes into his blood the coldness of death; his soul floats from his body like melody from the string; day and night, as the dust on the wheel, he is rolled along the heavens through a labyrinth of worlds, and all beneath the creation of God are flaming above and beneath. Is this a creature to make himself a crown of glory; to deny his own flesh, to mock at his fellow, sprung from that dust to which both will soon return? Does he not suffer? Does he not die? When he reasons is he never stopped by difficulties? When he acts is he never tempted by pleasure? When he lives is he free from pain? When he dies can he escape the common grave? Pride is not the heritage of man; humility should dwell with frailty, and atone for ignorance, error, and imperfection."

☞A short man became attached to a very tall woman, and somebody said that he had fallen in love with her. "Do you call that falling in love?" said an old bachelor; "it is more like climbing up to it."

☞A St. Louis paper of a late date contains the following—"The city is becoming frightfully moral. There has been nobody killed in the city for some days."

Married Men.

So good was he, that I now take the opportunity of making the confession which I have often had upon my lips, but have hesitated to make from the fear of drawing upon myself the hatred of every married woman. But now I will run the risk—so now for it—some time or other people must unburden their hearts. I confess, then, that I never find, and never have found, a man more loveable, more captivating, than when he is a married man. A man is never so handsome, never so perfect, in my eyes, as when he is married, as when he is a husband, and the father of a family, supporting in his manly arms, wife and children, and the whole domestic circle, which, in his entrance into the married state, closes around him and constitutes a part of his home and his world. He is not merely ennobled by his position, but he is actually beautified by it. Then he appears to me as the crown of creation; and it is only such a man as this who is dangerous to me, and with whom I am inclined to fall in love. But then propriety forbids it. And Moses and all European legislators declare it to be sinful, and all married women would consider it a sacred duty to stone me.

Nevertheless, I cannot prevent the thing. It is so, and it cannot be otherwise, and my only hope of appeasing those who are excited against me is in my further confession, that no love affects me so pleasantly; the contemplation of no happiness makes me so happy, as that between married people. It is amazing to myself, because it seems to me, that I, living unmarried or mateless, have with that happiness little to do. But it is so, and it was always so.

I was but a little child when I saw my father, one day, coming into the room where my mother was, and place before her a gift which gave her great pleasure. She kissed his hand; and words and glances of tearful affection passed between them. Never shall I forget the feeling of happiness, nay, of bliss, which gushed through my soul as I witnessed this; standing silently in a corner of the room with my doll. It was as if heaven had sunk down upon my heart. I stood silently under its weight when the glances of my parents fell upon me.

"She blushed so beautifully, the little one!" said my mother, affectionately, and my father came and laid his hand softly upon my head.

Never did I forget that either.

It is something of this first blissful feeling which I experience every time I see the happiness of a good married pair, especially when it is considerably after the honeymoon.—Miss Bremer.

Beauty of Jewesses.

It is related that Chateaubriand, on returning from his Eastern travels, was asked if he could assign a reason why the women of the Jewish race were so much handsomer than the men, when he gave the following one: "Jewesses," he said, "have escaped the curse which alighted upon their fathers, husbands and sons. Not a Jewess was to be seen among the crowd of priests and rabble who insulted the Son of God, scourged Him, crowned Him with thorns, and subjected Him to the infamy and the agony of the cross. The women of Judea believed in the Saviour, and assisted and soothed him under affliction. A woman of Bethany poured on his head precious ointment, which she kept in a vase of alabaster. The sinner anointed his feet with perfumed oil, and wiped them with her hair. Christ, on his part, extended mercy to the Jewesses. He raised from the dead the son of the widow of Nain, and Martha's brother Lazarus. He cured Simon's mother-in-law, and the woman who touched the hem of his garment. To the Samaritan woman he was a spring of living water, and a compassionate judge to the woman in adultery. The daughters of Jerusalem wept over him; the holy women accompanied him to Calvary, brought him balm and spices, and weeping sought him in the sepulchre. 'Woman, why weepest thou?' His first appearance after the resurrection was to Mary Magdalene. He said to her, 'Mary!' At the sound of his voice Mary Magdalene's eyes were opened, and she answered 'Master.' The reflection of some beautiful ray must have rested on the brow of the Jewesses."

The Home of Taste.—How easy it is to be neat—to be clean! How easy to arrange the rooms with the most graceful propriety! How easy it is to invest our houses with the truest elegance. Elegance resides not with the upholsterer or the draper; it is not in the mossies, the carpetings, the rose wood, the mahogany, the candelabra, or the marble ornaments; it exists in the spirit presiding over the chambers of the dwelling. Contentment must always be most graceful; it sheds serenity over the scene of its abode; it transforms a waste into a garden. The home lighted by these intimations of a nobler and brighter life may be wanting in much which the discontented desire; but to its inhabitants it will be a place, far outvieing the oriental in brilliancy and glory.

☞If you would keep other people out of your sweetmeats, always label the jars "arsenic," and your wine bottles can be rendered sacred by marking them "castor oil." A friend of ours has tried the experiment for five years, and he has not yet lost the first bottle. To look at his collection you would swear that you were staring at an abbreviated apothecary shop. His port wine is marked "gargle for sore throats, to be taken on going to bed," while his brown sherry bottles are rendered sacred with a label informing the reader that they contain a "wash for ulcerated mouths, to be taken on getting up." He'll do.—Albany Dutchman.

The Gentleman in Church

May be known by the following marks:

1. Comes in good season, so as neither to interrupt the pastor nor congregation by a late arrival.

2. Does not stop upon the steps or in the portico, either to gape at the ladies, salute friends, or display his colloquial powers.

3. Opens and shuts the door gently, and walks deliberately up the aisle or gallery stairs, and gets to his seat as quietly, and by making as few people move as possible.

4. Takes his seat in the back part of the seat, or steps out into the aisle when any one wishes to pass in, and never thinks of such a thing as making people crowd past him while keeping his place in the seat.

5. Is always attentive to strangers, and gives up his seat to such, seeking another for himself.

6. Never thinks of defiling the house of God with tobacco spit, or annoying those who sit near him by chewing that nauseous weed in church.

7. Never, unless in case of illness, gets up and goes out in time of service. But if necessity compels him to do so, goes so quietly that his very manner is apology for the act.

8. Does not engage in conversation before commencement of service.

9. Does not whisper, or laugh, or eat fruit in the house of God, or lounge.

10. Does not rush out of church like a tramping horse the moment the benediction as pronounced, but retires slowly in a noiseless, quiet manner.

11. Does all he can by precept and example to promote decorum in others.

Fate in Wedlock.

In 1789 Sergeant Bernadotte, being then at Grenoble, fell in love with a pretty girl and made her an offer of marriage. But a watchmaker was a candidate for her hand, and she thought him a better bargain than a soldier. She is still alive, a decrepid, crooked, and wrinkled old woman, a servant at a common inn, and in a state of utter poverty. "Ah, sir," said she, in lately concluding her story, "I should have done much better in marrying M. Bernadotte; I should have been a queen now, yes, a queen! instead of waiting upon every body here.—I should have had a crown and fine clothes. I should have been a queen! Ah! I made a great mistake, a sad mistake. I ought to have foreseen this, for I assure you, sir, M. Bernadotte was not a common man. I had a kind of presentiment that something would happen. But what would you have?—When we are young, we do not reflect; we are not ambitious; we refuse kingdoms and make fools of ourselves." Saying this she shed tears. When asked if she had heard any thing from him, she answered, "Never, sir. I have written to him several times since he became king, but he has never returned an answer. My husband says it is because I did not pay the postage on my letters. It is very likely. And then perhaps he may feel annoyed at my having refused him. If we were both free again, and I had money, I would go to Sweden. Perhaps he would marry me; or at any rate give me his linen to wash! That would be something after all." From a diadem to a tub! Could Love himself have imagined any thing more romantic?

Suggestions for Safety in Thunder Storms.

Sedulously avoid all conductors of electricity. Do not shelter under trees, nor go near them; the great majority of accidents arise from want of this precaution. Do not handle or be very close to metallic bodies; a servant cleaning a silver fork at a window, during a thunder storm, the prongs being outwards, was struck, but not killed; a young lady, during the same storm, sewing near a window, was thrown from her seat and experienced a blow. The centre of a room, if a metallic lustre is not pendant, is safer than any other part of the apartment. It is not safe to be between the window and the door, or fireplace, where there is a current of air. A bed is the securest retreat; so all ye who fear, and fail to derive pleasure, mingled with awe, in beholding this, the grandest of nature's motions, ensconce yourselves within the woollen folds, and, sunk in your downy couch, if ye cannot fall into a gentle slumber, think at least that you enjoy comparative safety. —Dr. Thompson's Mississippian.

Didn't want to Quarrel.

There is a noted nail contractor in Ramsey, N. H., who can tell as big a story as most of them, and who possesses one of the most accommodating dispositions in the world.

"I was passing through New Jersey," said he, "a few years since, and there came by us in the air a flock of crows NINE MILES LONG! and so thick was the flock, you couldn't see the sun for 'em."

The contractor told this in a tavern, where several persons were standing about, and one of them—a cross-limbed, heavy-featured son of the Granite State—ventured to query the correctness of the assertion.

"How long did you say, mahor?"

"Nine miles, sir."

"Don't believe it," was the reply.

"Well, look 'ere you," said the contractor, "you're a stranger, and I don't want to quarrel with yer. So, to please you, I'll take off a quarter of a mile from the thinnest part."

The stranger was perfectly satisfied.

☞There is said to be a woman in Pittsburg who takes in children to wash. She gives them a good scrubbing with soap and sand, and then sets them in the sun to dry. She washes at four shillings per dozen.—Pittsburg is such a smoky town that the children have to be washed all over every day

A SHORT PATENT SERMON.

BY DOW, JR.

I shall give a sermon to-day from the following text:

The lady who, before a tub,
Is not ashamed to ring or rub;
Or on the floor ashamed to scrub,
And cares not who calls in to see
Her laboring so industriously,
Will make a wife for you or me.

My hearers—it was ordained by Heaven, —not by the devil—that every man should have a wife, and every woman be blessed with a husband. In the beginning God made two of the genus homo—of opposite sex. The one he elected positively, and the other one negatively, so that when they approximated, their mystical effect could be produced from the one to the other. The how, the why, and the wherefore, no mortal has yet been able to understand—neither is it necessary that he should. The sexes naturally approach and adhere to each other, through some mysterious influence that admits of no solution. Let it suffice that it is so. When the Creator made Adam, he saw that it was not good for him to be alone, so he mesmerized the man—dug a rib from his side without the least particle of pain—and from it he made Eve, to be a helpmate for him, as well as a fancy plaything.—Now, without knowing what love was, they couldn't help loving the moment they set their eyes upon one another. He cast sheep's eyes at her at a distance, and she threw some killing glances in return, that fixed his soul, and set his heart vibrating like a splinter upon a chestnut rail in a sou'wester. They finally came together just as naturally as a couple of apple seeds in a basin of water. But situated as they were at first, and having little or no manual labor to perform—Eve could be of little utility to Adam, and Adam couldn't do a great deal for Eve. Still they loved and were ready to assist each other in case of any emergent casualty, and so when they found that aprons were necessary, they sat to, and with the needle worked together for mutual good.—Eve only understood plain sewing—she knew nothing about your embroidery, lace working and piano playing, and earned about the same. The couple were perfectly happy in their rude and rough state, until the old serpent got among 'em, and even then stuck to each other through thick and thin—through all the brambling vicissitudes of life—from Paradise to Perdition.

My brethren, since you know that marriage is a divine institution, and that every one of you should have a wife, what kind of a rib would you select? A pretty little useless doll, or a woman big and spunky enough to wrestle with a bear, and come off first best? I imagine you would care nothing for either extreme; but you would look for personal charms. O you foolish idolators at the shrine of beauty!—Know you not that hundreds of husbands are made miserable by handsome wives, and that thousands are happy in the possession of homely ones? homely without, but beautiful within. Alas! what is beauty? It is a flower that wilts and withers almost as soon as it is plucked, a transient rainbow, a fleeting meteor, a deceitful will of the wisp, sublimated moonshine. The kind of a wife you want is of good morals and knows how to mend trowsers, who can reconcile peeling potatoes with practical or fashionable piety, who can waltz with the churn dish, and sing with the tea-kettle—who understands broomology, and the true science of mopping—who can knit stockings without knitting her brows, and knit up her husband's ravelled sleeve of care—who prefers sewing tares with her needle, to sowing the tares of scandal with her tongue. Such is decidedly a better half. Take her if you can get her, wherever you can find her—let her be up to her elbows in the suds of a wash tub, or picking the geese in the cow stable.

My hearers—my text speaks of a lady before a wash tub. You may think it absurd, but let me assure you that a female can be a lady before a tub or in the kitchen, as much as in the drawing room or in the parlor. What constitutes a lady? It is not a costly dress, paint for the cheeks, false hair and still falser airs; but it is her general department, her intellectual endowments, and that evidence of virtue which commands the silent respect and admiration of the world. She would be recognized as a lady at once—it matters not where or in what situation she were found—whether scorching bed bugs with a red hot poker, or hollering hallelujah at a Methodist camp meeting. All that I have further to say, fellow bachelor, is, that when you marry see that you get a lady inside and out—one who knows how to keep the pot boiling, and to do well to her household. So modest is

Shaving in Spain.

An Irish gentleman travelling through Spain, went into a barber's shop to get shaved. The man of form, with great obsequiousness, placed his customer on the chair, commenced operations by spitting on the soap and rubbing it over the gentleman's face. "Blood and 'ounds," was the elegant remark of the Irishman, "is that the way you shave a gentleman?" at the same time preparing his wrath to overturn the wig minister. "It is the way we shave a gentleman, Senor." "Then how do you shave a poor man," "We spit on his face and rub the soap over that," was the Spaniard's reply. "Oh then, if I remember nothing else but the one thing, it'll be the Spanish barber's distinction." And so saying the Hibernian rose, paid the demand and departed.

☞Wisconsin, in the Winnebago tongue, means windy country. The name is said to be very appropriate to the territory to which it is applied, as old Boreas blows his bellows high and strong all the time.

A Modest Clerk.

A young lady, with a mind intent on shopping, entered a store on a certain occasion, and addressing a fresh looking, rosy cheeked youth, desired to know if he had any nice silk hose.

"Certainly Miss," replied he, and immediately the counter was strewn with the delicate articles. After selecting a pair, she looked up very innocently and inquired:

"How high do they come, sir?"

The clerk blushed, turned all sorts of colors, but spake not a word. She gave him a look of surprise, and repeated her question. Again the youth stammered and said:

"Really, Miss, I—that is to say—I think, could not be positive, but my impression is, they come just above the knee."

Anecdote of Dr. Emmons.

The doctor, it is said, was no great lover of sweet sounds, and religiously excluded from his meeting house all instrumental music, except a little mahogany-colored wooden pitch-pipe of the size of an "eighteen-mo" book. A member of his choir who had learned to play the bass-viol, anxious to exhibit his skill, early one Sunday morning most unadvisedly introduced his big fiddle into the singing gallery. After the first prayer was ended, and the doctor began to handle his "Watts," the base violist lifted up his profanation, and trying his strings, instantly attracted the doctor's attention. He paused, laid down his hymn-book, took his sermon from the cushion, and proceeded with his discourse, as if singing was no part of public worship, and finally dismissed the congregation without note or comment. The whole choir was indignant. They stayed after meeting, and all the girls and young men resolved not to go into the "singing seats" at all in the afternoon, and the elders who did go there, bore the visages of men whose minds were made up. Services began as usual in the afternoon. The doctor took his book in his hand, looked over his spectacles at the gallery, and saw only a few there; but nothing daunted, read a psalm and sat down. No sound followed, no one stirred; and the "leader" looked up in utter unconsciousness. After a long and most uneasy silence, the good man, his face somewhat over-flushed, his manner rather stern, read the psalm again, paused, then re-read the first verse, and pushing up his spectacles, looked interrogatively at the gallery. The leader could bear it no more, and half rising, said decidedly: "There won't be any singing here this afternoon." "Then there won't be any preaching!" said the doctor, quick as thought; and taking his cocked hat from its peg, he marched down the pulpit stairs, through the broad aisle, and out of the house, leaving his congregation utterly astonished. We need not inform our readers that the big fiddle was not used in the "singing seats" afterwards.

Taking a Ride.—At Bordentown, N. J., the other day, the managers of the railroad to Trenton were put to a non plus. The locomotive which was to carry the morning train to Trenton was missed, and could be no where found. The engineer was compelled to get another, with which he went to Trenton, where he found the runaway.—It seems that some time during the night an insane fellow had gone to the engine, made a fire, took in water, greased the machinery, and then set off on an excursion of his own down the road. He passed all the stations at a flying pace, and did not stop until he had reached Trenton, where he said that he only wanted to see how fast he could make the thing go. That he escaped destruction is almost miraculous.

Had Him Foul.

Some people have an ugly way of laying violent hands on small trifles that don't belong to them, that costs others money, and which they dont think of paying for.—Now it is very well known that groceries pay about the smallest profit of any other merchandize. Some folks have a habit of going into a store to purchase ten or twenty-five cents' worth of groceries, to be sent home, and while they wait for the goods to be put up they amuse themselves with a mouthful of sugar, gormandize an apple or two, or guzzle a bunch of raisins, figs, slice of cheese, plug of tobacco, biscuit, or whatever else lies around temptingly exposed to view. You may rest assured that people don't trade and traffic for the fun of it, and if you gouge the grocer he'll be justified in keeping square with you by sending light weight and scanty measure. A facetious old mercantile friend of ours was thus bled by a customer who used to come in daily to order something or other in the grocery line, and who having an amazing sweet tooth in his head, thought nothing of raisins, &c.—One morning Nibble came into the store before breakfast evidently disturbed in his mind.

"Mr.——, you sent my quarter bill last night."

"Yes, sir, I did."

"Well, there's one item I don't understand, 'Nibbles, three mos. 83.' What the dickens do you mean by that?"

"You keep a dry goods store, Mr.——?"

"Yes, I do."

"Now suppose I came in every day to buy two or three shillings worth of goods and each time I should levy on a piece of cotton, a paper of needles or a piece of tape, which I never of course thought of accounting for."

"Oh, ah, yes, I take the force of what you are about to say; those things do count up. You've got me now."

The bill was paid. The dry goods dealer did not take the matter as an insult, and what is still more strange, has quit nibbling.

Last Words of Eminent Men.

The last words of Gen. Taylor recall to the mind reminiscences of the last words of other eminent men. The ruling passion often shows itself in the death hour in a most striking and impressive form.

Napoleon expired amid the raging of a whirlwind. His last words were "Tete d'armee."

Saladin, in his last illness, instead of his usual standard, ordered his shroud to be uplifted in front of his tent; and the herald who displayed his winding sheet as a flag, was commanded to exclaim aloud, "Behold! this is all which Saladin, the vanquisher of the East, carries away of all his conquests."

The last words of Sir Walter Scott to Lockhart were, "Be a good man, for if you do not you will feel it when you come to lie here."

That great Philosopher and devoted Christian, Dr. Johnson, whose colossal intellect will tower upward above the tide of time as long as the white cliffs of Albion endure, was told by Dr. Brocklesby, one of his physicians, that he could not recover without a miracle. "Then," said Johnson, "I will take no more physic—not even my opiates; for I have prayed that I might render up my soul to God unclouded." A little before he died, he said, "Doctor, you are a worthy man, and my friend, but I am aware you are not a Christian! What can I do better for you than offer up, in your favor, a prayer to the great God, that you may become a Christian in my sense of the word?" Instantly he fell on his knees, and put up a fervent prayer; when he got up, he caught hold of his hand with great eagerness, and cried, "Doctor, you do not say Amen!"—Johnson said, "My dear Doctor, believe a dying man, there is no salvation but in the sacrifice of the Lamb of God." In his last moments he exclaimed "Jam moriturus."

The dying Wolfe, hearing of the flight of the French, exclaimed, "I die contented."

The curate of St. Sulpice asked the expiring Montesquieu, "Sir, are you truly conscious of the greatness of God?" "Yes," was the answer of the departing philosopher, "and of the littleness of man."

The heroic Lawrence, perishing amid the thunders of the engagement between the ill-fated Chesapeake and the British frigate Shannon, exclaimed, "Don't give up the ship."

Sir Richard Grenville, having fought his single ship against a large fleet, until his vessel was overwhelmed by the fearful odds, and himself mortally wounded, summoned his victors to bear testimony to his good conduct, and exclaimed, "Here die I, Richard Grenville, with a joyous and quiet mind, for that I have ended my life as a true soldier ought to do, fighting for his country, queen, religion and honor."

A dying act is recorded of a private soldier of the American Revolution, which was more eloquent of patriotism and self-devotion than any words. After the capture by the British of the Groton fort, opposite New London, Connecticut, the British returned to the shore, and laid a train of powder from the fort to the sea-side, intending to blow up the remains of the fort, with its unfortunate wounded. An American soldier, named Wm. Hotman, lying upon the hill-side mortally wounded, perceiving the intention of the enemy, and crawling to the train, dropped upon it the last life-blood of his bleeding heart.

When the Marquis of Montrose was taken and condemned to die, and his head and limbs to be severed and hanged in public places in different towns, "I wish," exclaimed he, "I had flesh enough to be sent to every city in Christendom, as a testimony to the cause for which I suffer."

Sir Henry Vane, when condemned to die, exclaimed, "Ten thousand deaths for me, ere I will stain the purity of my conscience."

"Is there any thing on earth I can do for you?" said Taylor to the satirical buffoon, Dr. Wolcott. "Give me back my youth," was the sad reply.

A mortally wounded officer of Napoleon heaped curses upon the surgeon because he could not save his life, and desired Napoleon to be sent for, as though Death itself would yield to the mandate of the Emperor.

"When I am dead," said an Indian chief, who died in Washington, "When I am dead, let the big guns be fired over me."

"Oh, that I might live," was the dying wish of the patriot Quincy, as he came in sight of Massachusetts. "Oh, that I might live to render to my country one last service."

It is said that Columbus, in a temporary wandering of mind before his death, supposed himself once more on the ocean, steering in quest of new enterprises.

The last words of Gen. Harrison were, as though he fancied himself addressing some official associate in the Government, "Sir, I wish you to understand the true principles of the Government. I wish them carried out. I ask no more."

"I have always done my duty. I am ready to die. My only regret is for the friends I leave behind me." These were the sublime words, indicating a mind conscious of rectitude, a spirit ignorant of fear, and a heart full of affection, with which the great and good Taylor was gathered to his father.

☞Sir Henry Bulwer, it is rumored, immediately on hearing of Mr. Webster's appointment as Secretary of State, wrote him a letter of congratulation, most tenderly expressed. He congratulated not only our own government for the appointment, but expressed the great satisfaction his own government, and all other governments of the world, would feel on hearing the intelligence.

☞Flatterers only lift a man up, as it is said the eagle does the tortoise, to get something by his fall.

The California Trail.

Cholera on the Plains—Fearful Scenes.—The St Louis Republican of the 18th ult has letters from the plains, which give sad accounts of the ravages of cholera among the California emigrants. It is believed that at least two hundred and fifty deaths occurred during the first two weeks of June. Wagon trains were passed in which almost every individual was prostrated by disease or already dead. One hundred and fifty graves were counted by one person who was travelling from Fort Kearney to the westward. In the long list of names published in the Republican, we find none from this section of country. They are mostly from Missouri and Illinois. As an illustration of the sad havoc made by the fell destroyer he gives some incidents. Writing from 250 miles west of Fort Kearney, he says:

During the past week we have witnessed a great amount of sickness and distress in different trains. In fact I have not yet heard of a train that has escaped sickness, and in nearly all the monster death has taken one or more victims. To give you some idea of the sickness on the plains this year, I will only mention a few cases that have come under my own personal observation. I visited a train on Tuesday last. Of the 17 men composing it, 16 were sick. Another train I passed buried seven at one time, five or six more sick, and one dying as I passed. In two instances I have passed trains where all but one had died. In one instance I saw at an encampment one tent left standing and another "struck," but lying on the ground; also a barrel of crackers, several blankets, six or eight pair of boots, hats, coats, shirts, &c., and near by five graves. It was a sad spectacle.

The following particulars were given me by a gentleman who overtook us yesterday, and I have every reason to believe them true, although he neglected to state explicitly everything of interest. He states on the seventh, about 15 miles west of Plum creek, he found a small train of three wagons, about half a mile from the main road, and but one man able to sit up; that there were originally twelve men in the train; that six were already dead and buried; four were about dying of cholera; one had the measles, and the other well, but so fatigued from nursing that he could hardly stand.

The whole number of emigrants registered at Fort Laramie on the 17th of June was: Men 30,964, women 439, children 503, wagons 7,113, horses 19,384, mules 6,471, oxen 18,238. It is said the registration in the main is correct.

Awful Cholera Fatality.

We copy the following from the Rising Sun (Ia.) True Whig of the 20th ult:

A man from Pennsylvania, (name unknown,) with a wife and six children, left Cincinnati one day last week, in a skiff, intending to go to Madison—and when arriving at North Bend, his wife was taken with the cholera, and died in a few hours, her husband nailing a rough box together and imbedding it in the sand, where he left her.

On arriving at Hillersburg, a few miles below this place, all of the children died, but one, and were buried in a like manner. The next day the father died, and was buried on a sandbar, by a fisherman. This completed the whole family, with the exception of a girl three or four years old, who is now living with the fisherman who buried her father.

This is certainly one of the most remarkable cases of fatality on record. The surviving girl is not sufficiently advanced in years to give an accurate account of their origin or destination, the above being the history furnished our informant by the old man, previous to his death.

Professor Webster and Suicide.

The Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune, says:

Professor Webster is in remarkable good health, is constant in his devotions, and appears like a man who realizes the awful and ignominious fate which awaits him.—He is allowed the usual articles in his cell that he had before the decision. I mention this because some have thought it a matter of surprise that he should be allowed a knife and fork, glass ware, &c., they being impressed with the idea that he would commit suicide. He once said, when spoken to on that subject:—"I am too much of a Christian to commit suicide." We shall see.—Bets run high that he will never be hung—that he will take his own life. Others are equally as fierce in betting that he will be hung.

Prof Webster is, according to the jail record, in the 58th year of his age, and is five feet two inches and one-eighth in height.

Is the Earth full of Seeds?

The fact that earth or soils brought up from different depths of the earth have, when exposed to the sun or air, become covered with vegetation, has led many to suppose that the whole earth, from the centre to the circumference, is full of seeds. This cannot be the case; but there are, nevertheless, remarkable instances of the fact above named. We once threw up a lot of coarse gravel, late in the fall, from a depth of ten feet, and early the next spring it was covered with pig weeds which grew very luxuriantly. The greatest depth we ever heard of seeds being buried, we find in a recent paper. In boring for water lately, at Kingston upon the Thames, some earth was brought up from the depth of three hundred and sixty feet. This earth was carefully covered with a hand-glass, to prevent the possibility of any other seeds being deposited upon it, yet, in a short time, plants vegetated from it.—English paper.

SECT. 48.—That from and after the 21st day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or body corporate, directly or indirectly, to issue, pay out, pass, exchange, put in circulation, transfer, or cause to be issued, paid out, passed, exchanged, circulated or transferred, any bank note, note, bill, certificate, or any acknowledgment of indebtedness whatsoever, purporting to be a bank note, or of the nature, character or appearance of a bank note, or calculated for circulation as a bank note, issued, or purporting to be issued by any bank or incorporated company, or association of persons, not located in Pennsylvania, of a less denomination than five dollars. Every violation of the provisions of this section by any corporation or body corporate, shall subject such corporation or body corporate, to the payment of five hundred dollars; and any violation of the provisions of this section by any public officer holding any office or appointment of honor or profit under the constitution and laws of this State, shall subject such officer to the payment of one hundred dollars; and any violation of this section by any other person, not being a public officer, shall subject such person to the payment of twenty-five dollars, one half of which, in each case above mentioned, shall go to the informer, and the other half to the county in which the suit is brought, and may be sued for and recovered as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable in any action of debt, in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as well for the use of the proper county, as for the person suing.

CONSUMPTION, [illegible] years standing, after all other remedies failed.—The like has never been known.—Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry.

READ THIS EXTRAORDINARY CASE.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir:—Having contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, attended with a violent cough, pain in my side and breast, difficulty of breathing, I was attended by physicians of the first respectability, but my symptoms became very alarming; there was an abscess formed in my lungs, and made its way through my side, and discharged large quantities of pus externally, so that my physician thought the power or functions of one of my lungs were totally destroyed—therefore, supposed the case entirely hopeless. This mournful state of things continued for a long time, until I was wasted and worn to a skeleton. I had tried a number of remedies, but all failed to do any good. But there still being a spark of hope left for me and my anxious parents, and having heard of the great virtues of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and its being approved of by physicians of the first eminence, I concluded to make trial of it, and, to my great satisfaction, my cough gradually grew better, the hole in my side began to heal, and I am happy to say, from a poor and almost hopeless skeleton, I have become healthy, and weigh more than I ever have. All my neighbors can testify to the above fact.

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all

NERVOUS DISEASES,

And of those Complaints which are caused by an impaired, weakened or unhealthy condition of the

NERVOUS SYSTEM.

This beautiful and convenient application of the mysterious powers of GALVANISM and MAGNETISM, has been pronounced by distinguished physicians, both in Europe and the United States, to be the most valuable medicinal discovery of the Age.

Dr. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC BELT and MAGNETIC FLUID,

is used with the most perfect and certain success in all cases of

GENERAL DEBILITY.

Strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system. Also in FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and PALSY, DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ACUTE and CHRONIC, GOUT, EPILEPSY, LUMBAGO, DEAFNESS, NERVOUS TREMORS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, APOPLEXY, NEURALGIA, PAINS in the SIDE and CHEST, LIVER COMPLAINT, SPINAL COMPLAINT, and CURVATURE of the SPINE, HIP COMPLAINT, DISEASES of the KIDNEYS, DEFICIENCY OF NERVOUS and PHYSICAL ENERGY, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, which complaints arise from one simple cause—namely,

A Derangement of the Nervous System.

☞In NERVOUS COMPLAINTS, Drugs and Medicines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital energies of the already prostrated system; while, under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor.

The great peculiarity and excellence of

consists in the fact that they arrest and cure disease by outward application, in place of the usual mode of drugging and physicking the patient, till exhausted Nature sinks hopelessly under the infliction.

They strengthen the whole system, equalize the circulation of the blood, promote the secretions, and never do the slightest injury under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three years since, more than

60,000 Persons

including all ages, classes, and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been

when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in vain!

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELT, suppose the case of a person afflicted with that bane of civilization, DYSPEPSIA, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In ordinary cases, stimulants are taken, which, by their action on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temporary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with injured faculties, after the action thus excited has ceased. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELT. Take a Dyspeptic sufferer, even in the worst symptoms of an attack, and simply tie the Belt around the body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the insensible perspiration will act on the positive element of the Belt, thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will pass on to the negative, and thence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. Thus the most severe cases of DYSPEPSIA are PERMANENTLY CURED. A FEW DAYS IS [illegible]

CURE OF

Rheumatism, Bronchitis and Dyspepsia.

REV. DR. LANDIS, A CLERGYMAN

of New Jersey, of distinguished attainments and exalted reputation.

SUSSEX, New Jersey, July 12, 1848.

DR. A. H. CHRISTIE—Dear Sir: You wish to know of me what has been the result in my own case of the application of THE GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE. My reply is as follows:

For about twenty years I had been suffering from Dyspepsia. Every year the symptoms became worse, nor could I obtain permanent relief from any course of medical treatment whatever. [illegible] the weather in the discharge of my pastoral duties, I became subject to a severe Chronic Rheumatism, which for year after year caused me indescribable agony. Further, in the winter of '47 and '48, in consequence of preaching a great deal in my own and various other churches in this region, I was attacked by the Bronchitis, which soon became so severe as to require an immediate suspension of my pastoral labors. My nervous system was now thoroughly prostrated, and as my Bronchitis became worse, so also did my Dyspepsia and Rheumatic affection, thus evincing that these disorders were connected with each other through the medium of the Nervous System. In the whole pharmacopoeia there seemed to be no remedial agent which could reach and recuperate my Nervous System; everything that I had tried for this purpose had completely failed. At last I was led by my friends to examine your inventions, and (though with no very sanguine hopes of their efficiency) I determined to try the effect of the application of the GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE, with the MAGNETIC FLUID. This was in June, 1848. To my ASTONISHMENT, IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN EIGHT DAYS I WAS ENABLED TO RESUME MY PASTORAL LABORS, NOR HAVE I SINCE OMITTED A SINGLE SERVICE ON ACCOUNT OF THE BRONCHITIS; AND MY RHEUMATIC AFFECTION HAS ENTIRELY CEASED TO TROUBLE ME. Such is the wonderful and happy result of the experiment.

I have recommended the BELT and FLUID to many who have been likewise suffering from Neuralgic affections. They have tried them, with HAPPY RESULTS, I BELIEVE, IN EVERY CASE.

I am, dear sir, very respectfully yours,

ROBERT W. LANDIS.

DR. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC NECKLACE

Is used for all complaints affecting the Throat or Head, such as Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dizziness of the Head, Neuralgia in the Face, Buzzing or Roaring in the Ears, Deafness which is generally Nervous, and that distressed complaint, called Tic Doloreux.

DR. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC BRACELETS

Are found of vast service in cases of Convulsions or Fits, Spasmodic Complaints, and general Nervous Affections of the Head and upper extremities. Also in Palsy and Paralysis, and all diseases caused by a deficiency of power or Nervous Energy in the limbs or other organs of the body.

☞Many hundred certificates from all parts of the country of the most extraordinary character can be given if required.

☞No trouble or inconvenience attends the use of DR. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC ARTICLES, and they may be worn by the most feeble and delicate, with perfect ease and safety. In many cases the sensation attending their use is highly pleasant and agreeable. They can be sent to any part of the country.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S

COMPOUND EXTRACT OF

SARSAPARILLA.

Wonder and Blessing of the Age.

The most extraordinary Medicine in the World!

This Extract is put up in Quart Bottles; it is six times cheaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures disease without vomiting, purging, sickening, or debilitating the Patient.

The great beauty and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other Medicines is, while it eradicates disease, it invigorates the body. It is one of the very best ever known; it not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it creates new, pure and rich blood; a power possessed by no other Medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the last two years, more than one hundred thousand cures of severe cases of disease; at least, 50,000 were considered incurable. It has saved the lives of more than 10,000 children the three past seasons.

100,000 cases of General Debility and want of Nervous Energy.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S Sarsaparilla invigorates the whole system permanently. To those who have lost their muscular energy, by the effects of medicine, or indiscretion committed in youth, or the excessive indulgence of the passions, and brought on by physical prostration of the nervous system, lassitude, want of ambition, fainting sensations, premature decay and decline, hastening toward that fatal disease, Consumption, can be entirely restored by this pleasant remedy. This Sarsaparilla is far superior to any

INVIGORATING CORDIAL,

As it renews and invigorates the system, gives activity to the limbs, and strength to the muscular system in a most extraordinary degree.

Consumption Cured.

Cleanse and Strengthen. Consumption can be cured. Bronchitis, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Colds, Catarrh, Coughs, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Soreness in the Chest, Hectic Flush, Night Sweats, Difficult or Profuse Expectoration, Pain in the Side, &c., have been and can be cured.

Spitting Blood.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—I verily believe your Sarsaparilla has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life. I have for several years had a bad Cough. It became worse and worse. At last I raised large quantities of blood, had night sweats, and was greatly debilitated and reduced, and did not expect to live. I have only used your Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has a wonderful change been wrought in me. I am now able to walk all over the city. I raise no blood, and my cough has left me. You can well imagine that I am thankful for these results. Your obedient servant, WM. RUSSELL, 65 Catharine st.

Fits! Fits!! Fits!!!

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND, not having tested his Sarsaparilla in case of Fits, of course, never recommended it, and was surprised to receive the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Westchester County:

Fordham, August 13, 1847.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have a little girl, seven years of age, who has been several years afflicted with Fits; we tried almost every thing for her, but without success; at last, although we could find no recommendation in your circulars for cases like hers, we thought, as she was in very delicate health, we would give her some of your Sarsaparilla, and are glad we did, for it not only restored her strength, but she has had no return of the Fits, to our very great pleasure and surprise. She is fast becoming rugged and healthy, for which we feel grateful.

Yours respectfully, JOHN BUTLER, Jr.

Female Medicines.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb, Costiveness, Piles, Leucorrhoea, or Whites, obstructed or difficult Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of inherent cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Persons all weakness and lassitude, from taking it, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervelessness of the female frame, which is the great cause of Barrenness. It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Thousands of cases where families have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable Medicine, have been blessed with fine, healthy offspring.

Great Blessing to Mothers and Children.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine for purifying the system, and relieving the sufferings attendant upon childbirth ever discovered. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, increases and enriches the food, those who have used it, think it is indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents diseases attendant upon child-birth—in Costiveness, Piles, Cramps, Swelling of the Feet, Despondency, Heartburn, Vomiting, Pain in the Back and Loins, False Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the secretions and equalizing the circulation, it has no equal. The great beauty of this medicine is, it is always safe, and the most delicate use it most successfully, very few cases require any other medicine, in some a little Castor Oil or Magnesia is useful. Exercise in the open air, and light food with this medicine, will always secure a safe and easy confinement.

Rheumatism.

[illegible] Island, Sept. 14, 1847.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have suffered terribly for nine years with the Rheumatism; considerable of the time I could not eat, sleep or walk. I had the most distressing pains, and my limbs were terribly swollen. I have used four bottles of your Sarsaparilla, and they have done me more than one thousand dollars worth of good. I am so much better—indeed I am entirely relieved. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Yours respectfully, JAMES CUMMINGS.

The Rev. John Seger.

Of Jersey City, an old and highly respectable clergyman of the Baptist Denomination, handed in the following certificate at Dr. S. P. Townsend's office. It speaks for itself.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I am constrained to give you a statement of the benefit I derived from using your Sarsaparilla, believing, by so doing, I shall render a benefit to those who are suffering as I have been. I was reduced for many months by the Dyspepsia, so much that it was with much difficulty for me to walk or keep about. I had also a tetter, which covered the most part of my head, which was extremely troublesome and sore; it got to be almost a scab. I used quite a number of remedies for both the complaints, but received little or no benefit, until I took your Sarsaparilla, which, through the kindness of Providence, has restored me to more than my usual health, as I am now enjoying better than I have for a number of years. I am now 60 years of age. I believe it to be an invaluable medicine, and recommend it to my numerous acquaintances, which is very large, as I have been a minister a great many years. I hope this hasty sketch may be as much benefit to you as your medicine has to me.

July 11, 1848. JOHN SEGER, Jersey City.

Methodist Clergyman.

The following was sent to our Agent in Rahway, by the Rev. J. D. TUNISON, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, one of the most learned and respected in the connection, and is another evidence of the wonderful effects of Dr. S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla on the system.

FRIEND FRAZEE—Having for some time past, as you are aware, experienced great general debility of my system, attended with constant and distressing irritation of my throat and lungs, I was, at your instance, and in consequence of having read Captain McLean's decided testimony in its behalf, induced to try Dr. S. P. Townsend's far-famed Sarsaparilla. I tried it, I confess, more in the hope than in the confidence of its proving efficacious; but I am bound in candor now to acknowledge, that I had not tried it long before I began to experience its salutary effects, and I can now say, with Captain McLean, that it would not be without it on any consideration, it has done me more good than any previous remedy I have tried, and if this statement is deemed by you of any importance, you have my full consent to make it public.

Rahway, August 3d, 1847. J. D. TUNISON.

SCROFULA CURED.

This certificate conclusively proves that this Sarsaparilla has perfect control over the most obstinate diseases of the blood. Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented.

Three Children.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your excellent medicine. They were afflicted very severely with bad sores; have taken only four bottles; it took them away, for which I feel myself under great obligation. Very respectfully,

ISAAC W. CRAIN, 106 Wooster st.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND is almost daily receiving orders from Physicians in different parts of the Union.

Law & Penalties against Passing SMALL NOTES.
ANNEXED will be found the portion of the Act of Assembly of 1850, prohibiting the circulation of notes under $5:

SECT. 48.—That from and after the 21st day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or body corporate, directly or indirectly, to issue, pay out, pass, exchange, put in circulation, transfer, or cause to be issued, paid out, passed, exchanged, circulated or transferred, any bank note, note, bill, certificate, or any acknowledgment of indebtedness whatsoever, purporting to be a bank note, or of the nature, character or appearance of a bank note, or calculated for circulation as a bank note, issued, or purporting to be issued by any bank or incorporated company, or association of persons, not located in Pennsylvania, of a less denomination than five dollars. Every violation of the provisions of this section by any corporation or body corporate, shall subject such corporation or body corporate to the payment of five hundred dollars; and any violation of the provisions of this section by any public officer holding any office or appointment of honor or profit under the constitution and laws of this State, shall subject such officer to the payment of one hundred dollars; and any violation of this section by any other person, not being a public officer, shall subject such person to the payment of twenty-five dollars, one-half of which, in each case above mentioned, shall go to the informer, and the other half to the county in which the suit is brought, and may be sued for and recovered as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable in any action of debt, in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as well for the use of the proper county, as for the person suing.

☞The undersigned, in directing the attention of the reader to the foregoing section of the Act of 1850, would inform him that he will receive the notes thus prohibited, at PAR VALUE, in exchange for goods, at his cheap and one-price

"Having been made acquainted with the ingredients which compose M'ALLISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT, and having prescribed and tested it in several cases in my private practice, I have no hesitation in saying or certifying that it is a vegetable remedy containing no mineral substance whatever; that its ingredients, combined as they are, and used as directed by the Proprietor, are not only harmless, but of great value, being a truly scientific remedy of great power; and I cheerfully recommend it as a compound which has done much good, and which is adapted to the cure of a great variety of cases. Though I have never either recommended or engaged in the sale of secret medicines, regard for the truly honest, conscientious, and humane character of the Proprietor of this Ointment, and the value of his discovery, obliges me to say thus much regarding it.

Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry!

CONSUMPTION PERMANENTLY CURED, of years standing, after all other remedies failed.—The like has never been known.—Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry.

READ THIS EXTRAORDINARY CASE.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir:—Having contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, attended with a violent cough, pain in my side and breast, difficulty of breathing, I was attended by physicians of the first respectability, but my symptoms became very alarming; there was an abscess formed in my lungs, and made its way through my side, and discharged large quantities of pus externally, so that my physician thought the power or functions of one of my lungs were totally destroyed—therefore, supposed the case entirely hopeless. This mournful state of things continued for a long time, until I was wasted and worn to a skeleton. I had tried a number of remedies, but all failed to do any good. But there still being a spark of hope left for me and my anxious parents, and having heard of the great virtues of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and its being approved of by physicians of the first eminence, I concluded to make trial of it, and, to my great satisfaction, my cough gradually grew better, the hole in my side began to heal, and I am happy to say, from a poor and almost hopeless skeleton, I have become healthy, and weigh more than I ever have. All my neighbors can testify to the above fact.

June 10.

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all
NERVOUS DISEASES,
And of those Complaints which are caused by an impaired, weakened or unhealthy condition of the
NERVOUS SYSTEM.

This beautiful and convenient application of the mysterious powers of GALVANISM and MAGNETISM, has been pronounced by distinguished physicians, both in Europe and the United States, to be the most valuable medicinal discovery of the Age.

Dr. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC BELT
and
MAGNETIC FLUID,
is used with the most perfect and certain success in all cases of
GENERAL DEBILITY
Strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system. Also in FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and PALSY, DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ACUTE and CHRONIC, GOUT, EPILEPSY, LUMBAGO, DEAFNESS, NERVOUS TREMORS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, APOPLEXY, NEURALGIA, PAINS in the SIDE and CHEST, LIVER COMPLAINT, SPINAL COMPLAINT and CURVATURE of the SPINE, HIP COMPLAINT, DISEASES of the KIDNEYS, DEFICIENCY OF NERVOUS and PHYSICAL ENERGY, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, which complaints arise from one simple cause—namely,

A Derangement of the Nervous System.

☞In NERVOUS COMPLAINTS, Drugs and Medicines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital energies of the already prostrated system; while under the strengthening, life giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor.

The great peculiarity and excellence of
consists, in the fact that they arrest and cure disease by outward application, in place of the usual mode of drugging and physicking the patient till exhausted Nature sinks hopelessly under the infliction.

They strengthen the whole system, equalize the circulation of the blood, promote the secretions, and never do the slightest injury under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three years since, more than
60,000 Persons
including all ages, classes and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been
when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in vain!

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELT, suppose the case of a person afflicted with that bane of civilization DYSPEPSIA, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In ordinary cases stimulants are taken, which, by their action on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temporary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with injured faculties, after the action thus excited has ceased. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELT. Take a Dyspeptic sufferer even in the worst symptoms of an attack, and simply tie the Belt around the body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the insensible perspiration will act on the positive element of the Belt, thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will pass on to the negative, and thence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. Thus the most severe cases of DYSPEPSIA are PERMANENTLY CURED. A FEW DAYS IS OFTEN AMPLY SUFFICIENT TO ERADICATE THE DISEASE OF YEARS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE,
which conclusively proves that
"Truth is stranger than Fiction."
CURE OF
Rheumatism, Bronchitis and Dyspepsia.
REV. DR. LANDIS, A CLERGYMAN
of New Jersey, of distinguished attainments and exalted reputation.—

SIDNEY, New Jersey, July 12, 1848.
DR. A. H. CHRISTIE—Dear Sir: You wish to know of me what has been the result in my own case of the application of THE GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE. My reply is as follows:

For about twenty years I had been suffering from Dyspepsia. Every year the symptoms became worse, nor could I obtain permanent relief from any course of medical treatment whatever. About fourteen years since, in consequence of frequent exposure to the weather, in the discharge of my pastoral duties, I became subject to a severe Chronic Rheumatism, which for year after year, caused me indescribable anguish. Farther: in the winter of '45 and '46, in consequence of preaching a great deal in my own and various other churches in this region, I was attacked by the Bronchitis, which soon became so severe as to require an immediate suspension of my pastoral labors. My nervous system was now thoroughly prostrated, and as my Bronchitis became worse, so also did my Dyspepsia and Rheumatic affection—thus evincing that these disorders were connected with each other through the medium of the Nervous System. In the whole pharmacopœia there seemed to be no remedial agent which could reach and recuperate my Nervous System; every thing that I had tried for this purpose had completely failed. At last I was led by my friends to examine your inventions, and (though with no very sanguine hopes of their efficiency,) I determined to try the effect of the application of the GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE, with the MAGNETIC FLUID. This was in June, 1846. TO MY GREAT ASTONISHMENT, IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN EIGHT DAYS I WAS ENABLED TO RESUME MY PASTORAL LABORS; NOR HAVE I SINCE OMITTED A SINGLE SERVICE ON ACCOUNT OF THE BRONCHITIS; AND MY RHEUMATIC AFFECTION HAS ENTIRELY CEASED TO TROUBLE ME. Such is the wonderful and happy results of the experiment.

I have recommended the BELT and FLUID to many who have been likewise suffering from Neuralgic affections. They have tried them, WITH HAPPY RESULTS, I BELIEVE, IN EVERY CASE.
I am, dear sir, very respectfully yours,
ROBERT W. LANDIS.

COMPOUND EXTRACT OF
SARSAPARILLA.
Wonder and Blessing of the Age.
The most extraordinary Medicine in the World!

This Extract is put up in Quart Bottles; it is six times cheaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures disease without vomiting, purging, sickening, or debilitating the Patient.

The great beauty and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other Medicines is, while it eradicates disease, it invigorates the body. It is one of the very best ever known; it not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it creates, new, pure and rich blood; a power possessed by no other Medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the last two years, more than one hundred thousand cures of severe cases of disease, at least, 30,000 were considered incurable. It has saved the lives of more than 10,000 children the three past seasons.

100,000 cases of General Debility and want of Nervous Energy.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S Sarsaparilla invigorates the whole system permanently. To those who have lost their muscular energy, by the effects of medicine, or indiscretion committed in youth, or the excessive indulgence of the passions, and brought on by physical prostration of the nervous system, lassitude, want of ambition, fainting sensations, premature decay and decline, hastening toward that fatal disease, Consumption, can be entirely restored by this pleasant remedy. This Sarsaparilla is far superior to any

INVIGORATING CORDIAL,
As it renews and invigorates the system, gives activity to the limbs, and strength to the muscular system in a most extraordinary degree.

Consumption Cured.
Cleanse and Strengthen. Consumption can be cured. Bronchitis, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Colds, Catarrh, Coughs, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Soreness in the Chest, Hectic Flush, Night Sweats, Difficult or Profuse Expectoration, Pain in the Side, &c., have been and can be cured.

Spitting Blood.
DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—I verily believe your Sarsaparilla has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life. I have for several years had a bad Cough. It became worse and worse. At last I raised large quantities of blood, had night sweats, and was greatly debilitated and reduced, and did not expect to live. I have only used your Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has a wonderful change been wrought in me. I am now able to walk all over the city. I raise no blood, and my cough has left me. You can well imagine that I am thankful for these results. Your obedient servant. WM. RUSSEL, 65 Catherine-st.

Fits! Fits!! Fits!!!
DR. S. P. TOWNSEND, not having tested his Sarsaparilla in case of Fits, of course, never recommended it, and was surprised to receive the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Westchester County:

Fordham, August 13, 1847.
DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have a little girl, seven years of age, who has been several years afflicted with Fits; we tried almost every thing for her, but without success; at last, although we could find no recommendation in your circulars for cases like hers, we thought, as she was in very delicate health, we would give her some of your Sarsaparilla, and are glad we did, for it not only restored her strength, but she has had no return of the Fits, to our very great pleasure and surprise. She is fast becoming rugged and healthy for which we feel grateful.
Yours respectfully, JOHN BUTLER, JR.

Female Medicines.
DR. S. P. TOWNSEND's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for Incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb, Costiveness, Piles, Leucorrhœa, or Whites, obstructed or difficult Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of inherent cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Persons all weakness and lassitude, from taking it, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervelessness of the female frame, which is the great cause of Barrenness. It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Thousands of cases where families have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable Medicine, have been blessed with fine, healthy offspring.

Great Blessing to Mothers and Children.
It is the safest and most effectual medicine for purifying the system, and relieving the sufferings attendant upon childbirth ever discovered. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, increases and enriches the food; those who have used it, think it is indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents diseases attendant upon child-birth—in Costiveness, Piles, Cramps, Swelling of the Feet, Despondency, Heartburn, Vomiting, Pain in the Back and Loins, False Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the secretions and equalizing the circulation, it has no equal. The great beauty of this medicine is, it is always safe, and the most delicate use it most successfully, very few cases require any other medicine in some a little Castor Oil, or Magnesia is useful. Exercise in the open air, and light food with this medicine, will always secure a safe and easy confinement.

Rheumatism.
Blackwell's Island, Sept 14, 1847.
DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have suffered terribly for nine years with the Rheumatism; considerable of the time I could not eat, sleep or walk. I had the utmost distressing pains, and my limbs were terribly swollen. I have used four bottles of your Sarsaparilla, and they have done me more than one thousand dollars worth of good. I am so much better—indeed I am entirely relieved. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.
Yours respectfully, JAMES CUMMINGS.

The Rev. John Seger
Of Jersey City, an old and highly respectable clergyman of the Baptist Denomination, handed in the following certificate at Dr. S. P. Townsend's office. It speaks for itself.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I am constrained to give you a statement of the benefit I derived from using your Sarsaparilla, believing, by so doing, I shall render a benefit to those who are suffering as I have been. I was reduced for many months by the Dyspepsia, so much that it was with much difficulty for me to walk or keep about. I had also a tetter, which covered the most part of my head—which was extremely troublesome and sore; it got to be almost a scab. I used quite a number of remedies for both the complaints, but received little or no benefit, until I took your Sarsaparilla, which, through the kindness of Providence, has restored me to more than my usual health, as I am now enjoying better than I have for a number of years. I am now 60 years of age. I believe it to be an invaluable medicine, and recommend it to my numerous acquaintances, which is very large, as I have been a minister a great many years. I hope this hasty sketch may be as much benefit to you as your medicine has to me.
July 11, 1847. JOHN SEGER, Jersey City.

Methodist Clergyman.
The following was sent to our Agent in Rahway, by the Rev. J. O. TUNISON, of the Methodist Episcopal Church—one of the most learned and respected in the connection—and is another evidence of the wonderful effects of Dr. S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla on the system.

FRIEND PEARSON—Having for some time past as you are aware, experienced great general debility of my system, attended with constant and alarming irritation of my throat and lungs, I was, at your instance, and in consequence of having read Captain McLean's decided testimony in its behalf induced to try Dr. S. P. Townsend's far-famed Sarsaparilla. I tried it, I confess, more in the hope than in the confidence of its proving efficacious; but I am bound in candor now to acknowledge, that I had not tried it long before I began to experience its salutary effects; and I may now say, with Captain McLean, "that I would not be without it on any consideration." It has done me more good than any previous remedy I have tried, and if this statement is deemed by you of any importance, you have my full consent to make it public.
Rahway, August 23, 1847. J. O. TUNISON.

SCROFULA CURED.
This certificate conclusively proves that this Sarsaparilla has perfect control over the most obstinate diseases of the blood. Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented.

Three Children
DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your excellent medicine. They were afflicted very severely with bad Sores; have taken only four bottles; it took them away, for which I feel myself under great obligation. Very respectfully,
ISAAC W. CRAIN, 106 Wooster-st.

Flayed Alive.

A statement was copied into the newspapers sometime ago, that a man belonging to a party bound for California, having declared that he would shoot the first Indian that he met, deliberately shot a squaw, and being taken by a party of Indians, was skinned alive. The report was subsequently contradicted. Notwithstanding this, the Bangor Mercury says, that a letter has been received from one of the party to which the man belonged, which was a company bound to California overland, giving the details of his crime and its punishment in the manner stated. Soon after this cold blooded murder of the squaw, the party, about twenty in number, was surrounded by three hundred Indians, and threatened with instant death unless they disclosed the perpetrator of the atrocious deed. After consulting together, they determined to point out the murderer, who was at once seized by the Indians, bound to a stake, and his skin peeled from him even to his toes. The operation lasted two hours, and the victim survived two hours after it. The company, among whom was his own brother, were compelled to form a ring around the stake and witness the terrible torment of the wretched man. Four or five of the party, and among them the one who called down upon himself such a terrible punishment, went from Troy, in the State of Maine.—Portland Argus.

Melancholy Suicide.—A young lady named Kean, residing in Covington, Ky., drowned herself in the Ohio river, on Sunday week. Miss K., it appears, had received and encouraged a gentleman whom her father disliked, and whose visits to the house he had forbidden. Sunday evening the young man came to the house and invited Miss K. to take a walk with him. When she was about starting, her father told her that if she did not return by a certain hour, the doors of his house would be closed upon her, and he would not open them. Miss K. started, and it appears remained away over the time; and when she returned, the doors were closed, and no one would admit her. On returning to her father's house and finding it closed against her, she spent some time in walking near the house, and then made another ineffectual attempt to gain admittance. She then sought out the young man with whom she had passed the evening, and requested him to provide for her comfort and protection during the night. He thought it would be more proper for the young lady to pass the night under her father's roof, and advised her once more to try and effect an entrance, and if unsuccessful, to return to him for protection. She complied so far as to try again at her father's door, but with no better success than before. She then started for the ferry, intending to seek a home at her sister's house, in Cincinnati. It being in the evening, the ferry boat had laid up for the night. She requested the ferryman to get up steam and take her over the river, which he positively refused to do. She asked him for a skiff and said she would row herself over. He either had none or would lend her none. Finding herself thus baffled at every point, in despair she rushed to the outer edge of the wharf and threw herself into the river, which soon closed over her fair form. What makes the matter still worse, the Atlas says, the father manifested a brutal indifference upon the subject, when informed that his daughter was drowned.

Friday.—It is a somewhat singular fact, says the Boston Journal, that Professor Webster committed the murder on Friday—he was arrested on Friday—the verdict of the Coroner's Inquest was made public on Friday—one of the regular days selected for his family to visit him at the jail was on Friday—the final decision of the Executive was given on Friday, and the execution of the prisoner is to take place on Friday.

The Bee adds to these singular coincidences, that it was also on Friday that Professor Webster told Pettee the falsehood that Dr. Parkman had, under aberration of mind, put his business out of his hands, into those of Mr. Blake, and that he (Pettee) would have no further trouble with him, because he (Webster) had settled with him!—it was on Friday, that Pettee paid Webster the $90 check—it was on a Friday that Webster ordered the "tin box" of Waterman—it was on a Friday that he purchased the fish hooks and twine—it was on a Friday that he purchased the acid of Thayer—it was on a Friday that he tried to get the blood from the Massachusetts Hospital—and it was on a Friday that Professor Webster "stepped into Brigham's and took a a mutton chop."

Cholera Incident.—The Effect of the Will.—The following, which we take from the Louisville Journal, of Wednesday last, shows how much the mind has to do, in producing, or warding off cholera attacks:

On Tuesday, the wife of a man named Jacques, in the lower part of the city, was attacked by cholera. Dr. Knight was called in, and, by his direction, Jacques went for medicine. On his return, he inquired anxiously of the doctor how his wife was. He was informed that she was in a collapsed state and could not possibly live. Thereupon he calmly took out his watch, and handing it to his brother, said: "My wife is going to die, and I cannot live without her: I shall die too." He seemed in perfect health at the time, but all the symptoms of cholera made their appearance immediately, and he died in three hours.

A Solemn Wedding.—The Rev. Mr. Barlow, of the Episcopal Church, recently died at Chicago. The Chicago Tribune says, that a "scene of the most touching interest occurred around the bed of death, a few minutes before Mr B. breathed his last. His daughter was to have been married the next Wednesday evening; but, feeling his end to be near, he expressed a wish that the ceremony should be performed before his departure, and his request was complied with, though he was so far on his solemn journey as to be unconscious of what was going on before him. Ten minutes afterward, his closed eyes opened in the light of another and brighter life. Thus were brought together the two most heart-touching events of life—Death and the Bridal. On the one hand the opening and sublime realities of the life that has no end; on the other, the most joyous anticipations that can brighten the future of our existence on earth."

Novel Breach of the Peace.—A man was before the Mayor of Philadelphia, a few days ago, charged with committing a breach of the peace, which breach of the peace consisted in whistling for his dog! Next a fellow will be taken up for sneezing or hiccoughing!

From Mexico.

Recent advices state that the cholera has raged throughout Mexico with unexampled fury. The number of cases in the Capital during the space of six weeks, amounted to 15,000, out of which 6,100 have proved fatal. From the last of June to the 2d of July there were 2000 cases and 1231 deaths.

At San Luis, the disease had sensibly diminished. The cholera has had a most depressing effect upon business, especially at Vera Cruz. Many of the merchants have fled to the country, and a deep gloom rests upon the market. Private letters say that it has disappeared from Guanajuato, also from Queretaro. It is now raging upon the Mexican Gulf. Jalapa, Orizaba, and Vera Cruz have just entered the fierce ordeal of suffering and death.

A train of wagons was robbed between Puebla and Vera Cruz by thirty banditti. The Major Domo was killed, and nearly all the drivers. The robbers selected their booty, destroyed all they could not carry away, calmly overturned the wagons, and drove off the mules. The Diligence had also been plundered going up from Vera Cruz, and also the Diligence coming down from the Capital.

In Durango the inhabitants are suffering greatly from the attacks of the Indians. The Rancho of San Luis has been entirely destroyed, and nine women carried off by the savages. Ten men were left dead on the ground.

The political condition of Mexico is much embarrassed, and the people are growing hopeless of reform. The Trait d'Union says:—"The treasury is not only empty, but there are no available means by which it can be filled, (at least legally filled.) The state of the country arises from the evils which have crept in and become a part and portion of the system of government. They must all be changed ere any permanent good can result to Mexico."

☞The expenses of the City Government of New York for the present year are said to reach the sum of three millions two hundred and thirty thousand one hundred and eighty dollars. The increased assessment in the value of real and personal estate is nearly thirty millions, and though the rate of taxation is lower, the amount actually paid will be nearly a quarter of a million dollars more than last year.

The Resources of Cuba.—The Island of Cuba, with one million inhabitants, has a larger revenue from commerce than the whole kingdom of Spain, with fourteen millions. The most recent official account of the finances of Cuba, state the total revenue of the island from all sources to be 12,922,575 dollars, and the total expenditures 11,854,739 dollars. These expenditures include not only the public disbursements in the Island, but the sum of 1,061,094 dollars appropriated for the general purposes of the nation. Spain, therefore, derives a net income from Cuba of 2,829,930 dollars, besides the benefit of quartering a large number of royal favorites and dependents of the ministry upon the fat offices of the island.

Marriage on the Plains.—In the accounts from Fort Laramie, of the California emigration, we find the following.

Married, by the Rev. C. A. Sayman, on the 31st May, 1850, twenty-five miles this side of Fort Kearney, Mr. Scott Lincoln, of Louis county, Mo., to Miss Mary Seaman, of Clarke county, Mo.

A Woman at the Bottom of it.—In the confession of Pearson, hung for the murder of his wife and children, the only cause he assigns therefor is that he was led away.—The Boston Journal says that there is a deep meaning in this expression, if it is not misinformed. It confirms a statement which has been previously made, that another, a female, was also connected with the murder. Seared and hardened must be her conscience, if the apparition of the murdered wife and innocent babes does not haunt her through life.

Something New.—An ingenious Yankee down east, has invented a machine for milking cows. The editor of the Maine Farmer has seen it, and given it a trial. He says it empties the udder very freely and easily, and at the rate of about a quart per minute.

Almost a Fire.—Brunner's mill, at Bridgeport, made a narrow escape from fire the other night. It seems the miller got asleep and let the stones run after the hopper was empty; and they soon set the surrounding wood-work on fire. The light was discovered by some of the family, and Mr. Brunner and others hastened to the mill and soon extinguished the fire, by the use of a few buckets of water. A few moments more and all would have been over.

☞Intelligence has been received at New York that a revolution has broken out in the States of Guatemala and San Salvador—one party headed by Gen. Paez and the other by Gen. Carrera. The Governor of Belize, Honduras, had enrolled all the male inhabitants, and would leave shortly for the seat of war.

Thieves in London.—It is supposed that the number of persons who make a trade of thieving in London, is not less than 6,000; of these, nearly 200 are first class thieves, or swell mobmen; 660 "macemen," and trade swindlers, bill swindlers, dog stealers, &c.; about 100 burglars, "danser," "garroters," and other adepts with the skeleton keys. The rest are pickpockets, "gonophs," mostly young thieves, who sneak into areas and rob tills, and other pilferers.

☞One of the improved Machines will be exhibited in Gettysburg during August Court.

CAUTION.

All persons are hereby warned against infringing in any manner upon the Machines, under the penalties of the law made and provided therefor. That persons may have no difficulty in deciding upon those that are infringements, we publish an extract from our claim, from which it will be seen that all those Drills now in the market, which have attached to them one or more 'levers' for the purpose of raising the seed tube and stopping the seed at one and the same operation, are direct infringements, and will be treated as such.

The following is an extract from the claim of the Original Patentee whose rights are being violated, viz: The simultaneous throwing into or out of operation, by the movement of a lever or other mechanical equivalent or device, each seed ing cylinder and its respective Drill or Seed Tube, for the purpose of sowing with any number of Hoppers and Drills that may be required in sowing point or other irregular shaped land, without stopping the animal or animals attached to the Machine. Not intending to limit ourselves to the particular construction herein described and represented in the annexed drawing, but to vary those in any way that we may deem proper, so that the before described results are effected by means substantially the same as those described in the foregoing specification.

SALAMANDER SAFES,
Warranted Fire and Thief Proof, and Free from Dampness.

THESE SAFES possess every qualification to render them proof against the action of fire or thieves, and of sufficient strength to endure a fall from any story of a burning building. They are made of wrought iron, being kneed, riveted and welded together, and lined with a perfect non-conducting fire proof mineral composition, no wood being used in their construction as in the majority of safes sold by other makers. The doors of GAYLER'S Safes are secured with his THIEF DETECTOR and ANTI-GUNPOWDER LOCK, which precludes the possibility of picking or blowing them open with gunpowder. Over TWO HUNDRED of these Safes have been exposed in accidental fire to the most intense heat, in many instances remaining in the burning ruins for several days, and at no time have they ever been known to fail in preserving their contents.

The public are invited to call at the BRANCH DEPOT, NO. 10 EXCHANGE PLACE, PHILADELPHIA, near Dock street, and examine the numerous testimonials in favor of GAYLER'S SAFES, also the large assortment on hand for sale at manufacturers prices, by

[illegible]

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Eloquent and Patriotic.

The following is the peroration of Mr. Clay's recent eloquent speech in the Senate, on the Compromise bill for settling the distracting slavery and territorial subject:

"Mr. President: What is an individual man? An atom, almost invisible without a magnifying glass—a mere speck upon the surface of the immense universe—not a second in time compared to immeasurable, never-beginning and never-ending eternity—a drop of water in the great deep, which evaporates and is borne off by the winds—a grain of sand, which is soon gathered to the dust from whence it sprung. Shall a being so small, so petty, so fleeting, so evanescent, oppose itself to the onward march of a great nation, to subsist for ages and ages to come—to oppose itself to that long line of posterity which, issuing from our loins, will endure during the existence of the world? Forbid it, God! Let us look at our country and our course; elevate ourselves to the dignity of pure and disinterested patriots—of wise and enlightened statesmen—and save our country from all impending dangers. What, if in the march of this nation to greatness and power, we should be buried beneath the wheels that propel it onward—what are we—what is any man worth who is not ready and willing to sacrifice himself for the benefit of his country when it is necessary?

Now, Mr. President, allow me to make a short appeal to some Senators—to the whole of the Senate. There is my friend from Virginia, (Mr. Mason,) of whom I have never been without hopes. I have thought of the Revolutionary blood of George Mason, which runs in his veins—of the blood of his own father—of his own accomplished father—my friend, and cherished friend for many years. Can he, knowing, as I think he must know, the wishes of the people of his own State—can he, with the knowledge he possesses of the public sentiment there, and of the high obligation cast upon him by his noble ancestry, can he hazard Virginia's greatest and most glorious work; that work, at least, which she perhaps, more than any other State, contributed her moral and political power to erect—can he put at hazard this noble Union, with all its beneficent effects and consequences, in the pursuit of abstractions and metaphysical theories—objects unattainable or impossible in their nature—while the honor of our own native State, which I reverence and respect with as much devotion as he does—while the honor of that State, and the honor of the South are preserved unimpaired by this measure? I appeal, sir, to the Senators from Rhode Island and from Delaware, my little friends, which have stood by me, and by which I have stood in all the vicissitudes of my political life, two glorious, patriotic little States, which, if there is to be a breaking up of the waters of this Union, will be swallowed up in the common deluge and left without support. Will they hazard, that Union which is their strength, their power, and their greatness? Let such an event as I have alluded to occur, and where will be the sovereign power of Delaware and Rhode Island?

If this Union shall become separated, new Unions, new Confederacies will arise, and I hope there is no one in the Senate before whose imagination is flitting the idea of a great Southern Confederacy to take possession of the Balize and the mouth of the Mississippi; I say in my place, never! never!! Never will we who occupy the head waters of the Mississippi consent that any foreign flag shall float at the Balize or upon the turrets of the Crescent City, never! never!! I call upon all the South, since we have had hard words, bitter words, bitter thoughts, unpleasant feelings towards each other in the progress of this great measure. Let us forget them.—Let us sacrifice these feelings. Let us go to the altar of our country and swear the oath that was taken of old, that we will stand by her, we will support her, that we will uphold her Constitution, that we will preserve her Union, and that we will carry this great comprehensive healing system of measures which will hush all the jarring elements, and bring peace and tranquility to our homes. Let me, Mr. President, in conclusion, say, that the most disastrous consequences would occur, in my opinion, were we to go home without doing anything to satisfy and tranquilize the country upon these great questions. What will be the judgment of mankind? What the judgment of that portion of mankind who are looking upon the progress of this self-government as being that which holds out the highest hopes and expectation of ameliorating the condition of mankind? What will their judgment be—will not all the monarchs of the Old World pronounce our glorious Republic a disgraceful failure? What will be the judgment of our constituents, when we return to them, and they ask us, how have you left your country? Is all quiet—is all happy,—are all the seeds of distraction and disunion crushed and dissipated?

And, sir, when you come into the bosom of your family, when you come to converse with the partner of your fortunes, of your happiness and your sorrows, and when in the midst of the common offspring of both of you, she asks you, is there any danger of civil war? Is there any danger of the torch being applied to any portion of the country? Have you settled the questions which you have been so long discussing and deliberating upon at Washington? Is all peace and all quiet? What response, Mr. President, can you make to that wife of your choice, and those children with whom you have been blessed by God? Will you go home, and leave all in disorder and confusion, all unsettled, all open? The contentions and agitations of the past will be increased and augmented by the agitation resulting from neglect to decide them. Sir, we shall stand condemned by all human judgment. We shall stand condemned in our own consciences, by our own constituents, by our own country. The measure may be defeated. I have been aware that its passage for many days was not absolutely certain. From the first to the last I hoped and believed it would pass, because, from the first to the last I believed it was founded on the principles of just and righteous concession—of mutual conciliation. I believe that it deals unjustly with no part of the Republic; that it saves our honor, and, as far as it is dependent on Congress, saves the interest of all quarters of the country.

But, sir, I have known that the decision of its fate depended upon four or five votes in the Senate of the United States, and upon whose ultimate judgment we could not count upon one side or the other with absolute certainty. Its fate is now committed to the hands of the Senate, and to those five or six to which I have referred. It may be defeated. It is possible that, for the chastisement of our sins or transgressions, the rod of Providence may be still applied to us—may be still suspended over us. But if defeated, it will be a triumph of ultraism or impracticability—a triumph of a most extraordinary conjunction of extremes—a victory won by abolitionism—achieved by free soilism—the victory of discord and agitation over peace and tranquility—and I pray Almighty God, that it may not, in consequence of this inauspicious result, lead to most unhappy and disastrous consequences to this our beloved country. (Applause.)

The Census.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.

The Funeral Pageant.—The funeral pageant to-day in honor of the late President of the United States was a magnificent affair. All business was suspended and most of the stores closed. The procession was about four miles in length, and consumed one hour and thirty-five minutes in passing a given point. It is estimated that there were about six thousand persons in the column. The procession moved through the various streets designated, and in all respects was carried out precisely in accordance with the published programme. The city presented a mournful and imposing appearance. Throughout the entire route of the procession, public buildings, stores and dwellings were shrouded in sable. Flags were suspended at half mast everywhere, and minute guns were fired while the procession moved. Some of the buildings were draped in costly and beautiful style, displaying much good taste. The weather was exceedingly hot, the thermometer ranging from ninety to ninety-five. A number of persons were so overcome by the heat that they were compelled to leave the ranks. So far as we have been been able to learn, all passed off without accident or anything to interrupt the solemn ceremonies.

Horrid Accident.—On Thursday, as some men were engaged at Philadelphia hoisting a large lot of carboys of oil of vitriol out of the sloop Cayuga, the bottom of one gave way, and falling out upon the deck, its destructive contents were spilled over the vessel, and splashed upon one of the stevedores, John W. Hudson, who was burned in a horrid manner. The sufferer was held over the side of the vessel in the water until the fire, which was consuming his clothes and the flesh of his lower extremities, was extinguished. The vessel was set on fire, and the timbers a good deal blackened and charred before the flames were subdued.

Jenning's repeating rifle is one of the most effective, the most awful weapons of modern days. It discharges twenty-four balls in a minute, which take full effect at eight hundred yards. When one ball is fired, the gun is again instantly loaded, by a principle as simple as it is unfailing. Think of such a weapon in the hands of a thousand men!

Influence of Rum.—In a case before Mayor Jones, the other day, of a wife who was called upon to testify against her husband, said that when sober he was a perfect gentleman, but when drunk he was a demon. Could language more forcibly describe the effect of ardent spirits?

The Census.

We learn that JAMES A. THOMPSON, of the Borough, SAMUEL DURBORAW, and LEWIS NORBECK, of Mountjoy township, JOHN C. ELLIS, of New Oxford, and MR. MYERS, of Conowago township, have been appointed Assistant Marshals to take the Census of Adams county.

MR. THOMPSON is appointed for the Borough, and the Townships of Latimore, Huntington, Tyrone, Menallen and Butler.—Mr. DURBORAW, for Cumberland, Franklin, Hamiltonban, Liberty and Freedom. Mr. NORBECK, for Germany, Union and Mountjoy. Mr. ELLIS, for Oxford, Berwick, Hamilton and Reading. Mr. MYERS, for Straban, Mountpleasant, and Conowago.

Burglary.

The shop of Mr. ALEXANDER FRAZER, watch-maker, of this place, was entered sometime in the night of Thursday last, and robbed of Jewelry, and other valuables, to the amount of probably $200. As yet, there is no clew which leads to the detection of the villain.

Mr. Frazer has offered a reward of $50 for the detection of the thief or thieves.

POSTSCRIPT.

A man calling himself HARVEY WRIGHT, was arrested at Dillstown, on Saturday evening, on suspicion of being the guilty person. He was brought to this place last night, and committed to the lock-up, where he now is. He was identified by Mr. Frazer as a stranger who had been several times in his shop on the day of the robbery, pricing jewelry, &c.

We learn that the store of Lilly and Reiley, in New Oxford, was broken into on Wednesday night; but the villains succeeded in getting but a small amount in change. Householders would do well to be on their guard, as it is evident there are rogues about.

A young man, named THEODORE SCHÆFFER, aged about 21 years, who lately was in the employ of Mr. Valentine Werner, of this town, was drowned, whilst bathing in Jones' Falls, near Baltimore, on the afternoon of Sunday the 28th ult.

The semi-annual interest on the State debt, which was due on Thursday last, was promptly paid in Philadelphia on that day, by Gen. Bickle, the State Treasurer.

The Hon. JAMES COOPER is to deliver the address at the opening of the third annual exhibition of the Maryland Institute, at Baltimore, in October next.

Hon. ROBERT C. WINTHROP has been appointed U. S. Senator by the Governor and Council of Massachusetts, in place of Mr. Webster. There are now three vacancies in Congress from that State—Mr. Winthrop's district; Mr. King's, who lately died; and in the 4th, where there have been several failures to elect.

During the terrific thunder storm of last night week, the barns of Mr. Clark, Mr. Martin, and Mr. Westhafer, in Cumberland county, and rumor says two others, also the barn of Abraham Fleming, in York county, were struck by lightning, and consumed with all their contents. The dwelling house of Mr. Seavers, residing near Centreville, Cumberland co., was struck by lightning, and his son, a young man 18 years of age, sitting on the porch, was instantly killed. During the same storm, Mr. Hiram Baughman, of Georgetown, Lancaster county, was killed by lightning. He had retired to bed in company with his wife, and while lying by her side, the fluid passed down the chimney, killing him, but leaving her unharmed.

Tremendous Fire.

A fire broke out in Oswego, N. Y., on Tuesday morning last, which destroyed a large block of valuable buildings; and the loss is estimated at half a million of dollars.

A fire broke out on Thursday night week, in Strasburg, Franklin county, which destroyed seven buildings before it was subdued. It broke out in Keasey's Hotel.

There was a severe gale among the West India Islands on the 12th and 13th of July. Two brigs were cast away, and 75 lives lost.

The Compromise Bill Defeated!

It is with regret we announce that the Compromise bill, as reported by the Committee of Thirteen, of which Mr. Clay was chairman, and which has been so ably defended by him for months, failed on Wednesday, not by a direct vote, but by striking out of it all its main features, and leaving the bill only to provide for a territorial government for Utah. In this shape it passed the Senate on Thursday. The loss of the bill is owing to Senator Pearce, of Md., who was previously a friend of the measure; but offered an amendment which threw off the Texas Senators, and lost the bill. His course is severely denounced in Maryland, and will bring down upon him a burst of indignation.

On Thursday, Mr. Douglass offered two motions—the first to take up the independent California bill, making it a special order, the second making it the special order for Friday and every day following until disposed of—both of which carried, the former by a majority of 11, while the latter was agreed to without a division—although Mr. Foote was anxious that this all important and long neglected bill should be postponed to a Texas and New Mexico bill, intimating that it would otherwise be defeated in the House by "parliamentary modes" of tactics, of which the country has heretofore witnessed some samples. The Senate, however, proceeded to the consideration of the bill, when an interesting discussion arose, in which Mr. Clay took a prominent part, declaring, in a dignified manner, his regret for the loss of the Compromise bill, which he deemed a measure that would have proved a healing one, but avowing, in a still more lofty style and noble spirit, that if any State or the people of any State should attempt the threatened game of rebellion, "he was for testing the strength of our Government," while he would stand by, against all disunionists, as long as he had an arm or a voice to raise in its service—a patriotic declaration, which drew down applause from the galleries, demanding all the resolution of the presiding officer for its suppression.

Mr. Clay referred, with some feeling, to the loss of the bill as having been caused by Mr. Pearce, of Maryland, who replied with a good deal of decision, and some sharpness, intimating, with equal truth and force, that the failure was attributable to the absurd obstinacy of the Texas Senators, who lost every thing by refusing to accept any boon short of an absolute surrender to all their demands.

Messrs. Mason and Butler made disunion speeches, when Mr. Foote rose, and in a strain of unequalled wit, sarcasm and withering persiflage, came down upon the disunion sentiments of South Carolina and the demagogue, Rhett, whose school-boy oratory it is attempted by some gentlemen to pass off for statesmanlike wisdom. Mr. Foote was inimitable and kept the Senate in a continued roar with his power of ridicule. He is decidedly the best debater in either House, and avowed Union sentiments which cover him with eternal honor.

President Fillmore has left the Executive mansion, and taken up his residence on the Heights of Georgetown, on account of the unhealthy condition of the former. The cellars and lower part of the house are always in a very bad condition, and we observe that a resolution passed the Senate on Monday for a proper drainage of the grounds around the building.

Mr. BATES has declined the situation of Secretary of War, which had been tendered him by the President. It is thought Judge SHARKEY, of Miss. will go into the Cabinet.

Terrible Steamboat Explosion on Lake Erie!

The splendid steamer America, from Sandusky, bound to Buffalo, burst her steam-pipe on Wednesday morning last, about 60 miles from the latter city. Twenty-seven persons were scalded, of whom nine are dead, and six or eight others badly, perhaps mortally, wounded. She was a new boat and a regular packet. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

Dreadful Railroad Accident.

On Tuesday last, as a freight train of seventeen cars were crossing a bridge on the New York and Erie Railroad, the bridge gave away, and the whole train were precipitated into the ravine, and smashed to pieces. There were on board 500 sheep, 100 head of cattle, and 200 hogs, all of which were lost. Five persons were killed. The bridge was forty feet high. The ravine was completely filled up with the wrecked cars and dead and wounded cattle, presenting a most lamentable scene. The loss by this disaster, it is thought, will not fall far short of 200,000.

The stage broke through the Northumberland Canal bridge near Danville, Pa. on Thursday morning last, by which accident, Benjamin D. Jones was killed, and ten other passengers very badly injured. Two of the horses were killed.

Gen. Jose Antonio Paez, formerly President of Venezuela, and one of the founders of that Republic, whence he has been recently exiled, arrived at Philadelphia from St. Thomas last Friday. He [illegible] a view to making it his future residence.

The cholera has broken out in Pittsburg. Ten fatal cases were reported on Wednesday, and six on Thursday.

In Mount Sterling, Ky. there have been 20 deaths, out of 1,400 of a population, by cholera.

A little girl in Baltimore, daughter of Mr. Crofts, residing on Pennsylvania Avenue, came to her death on Tuesday in consequence of drinking some spirits of wine. Her brother had been endeavoring to inflate a paper balloon, and had some of the dangerous fluid in a cup by him, when the girl took it up and swallowed it. She died in a few hours afterwards.

The Convention which has been in session at Columbus, Ohio, for some time past, and which recently took a recess until the weather became cooler, is said to have cost the State upwards of $31,000. It is also said that not a single provision of the new Constitution has been definitely settled.

The Cholera.

This dreadful disease has made its appearance at Harper's Ferry. Three of the operatives in the Government works died from [illegible] were reported on Wednesday. A lady from Baltimore died there on Tuesday.

The cholera is raging fearfully at Uniontown, Pa. and there is great consternation among the citizens. On Monday, Major Irons, editor of the "Tribune of Liberty," and six others, were attacked with cholera, and have since died.

A very love-sick young man sent us a very earnest request to publish a few lines this week, addressed to his Lady-love. We had compassion on him, and have given them below.

For the "Adams Sentinel."

TO MISS LOU.

A CONFESSION.

I love thee more than prattling* streams,
That bathe the feet of bending flowers,
Whose notes as soft as lovers' dreams,
Call Echo from her wood-bine bowers.

I love thee more than woodland shades,
Where birds from boughs with love complain,
Or breaks the light of sunny glades,
The darkness of the forest's reign.

I love thee more than oriental gales,
That waft the sweets of flowers on od'rous wings,
And breathe in melting tones the softest wails,
That ever trembled from Æolian strings.

I love thee more than sunset hours,
When Day, with blush of crimson dye,
Before the sable monarch cowers,
And yields to quiet shades the sky.

I love thee more than twilight hours,
When purple Eve, with nimble step,
Breathes o'er the fields and o'er the flowers,
And spreads her veil with stars beset.

I love thee more than moonlight walks,
When thoughts, on lofty pinions, fly,
To every ghostly cloud that stalks,
And star that burns in yon blue sky.

I love thee more than youthful dreams
Of Glory, Wealth, and proud Renown,
Which wreathe the brow of Time with beams,
That hide from view the lurking frown.

Dear Lou, a sad confession this!
But this has set my bosom free;
And hence, whene'er I dream of bliss,
'T will be a dream of Love and thee.

But learn that Worth, not Beauty's art—
Though charms like thine are few and rare—
Has fixed thy image in my heart,
To shine a star forever there.

EHEU.

PENN. COLLEGE.

Purling* streams, we suppose, are meant; but we go "according to copy."

Hon. HENRY CLAY was to leave Washington on Saturday for the North, to spend a couple of weeks for the purpose of recruiting his health after his recent arduous labors in the Senate.

Com. JONES, an old and distinguished officer of the Navy, was at the point of death on Saturday, at his residence in Philadelphia.

Gone to Reclaim Him.—Yesterday morning a very respectable and pretty looking lady, about 30 years of age, who had with her two children, one a bright and beautiful boy, eleven years of age, and the other a handsome rosy-cheeked girl of seven, called in at our office, to obtain some information in reference to the routes West, which, to the best of our knowledge, we gave her.—She was married about twelve years ago, she told us, to a shoemaker in the city of New York, an active and industrious young man, about 21, who lived with her six years and a half, when, in the winter of 1845, he disappeared, and no trace of his whereabouts could be learned by the family he deserted. About two weeks ago, however, she learned that a man who answered his description was keeping a store in a small village in Indiana, and paying his addresses to a lovely girl. His wife at once took her blooming children, and determined to go after the runaway husband and endeavor to reclaim him.—Albany Knick.

The Old Brewery.—The census, which is now being taken, reveals the fact that the population of the building known as the Old Brewery, on the Five Points, comprises 220 regular lodgers, consisting of 32 families; of whom 154 persons are natives of Ireland, 49 of Italy, 12 of the State of New York, 3 of Pennsylvania, 2 of Canada, and 1 of the State of Georgia. Of these there are 68 persons above the age of 20 years who cannot read or write—53 of them natives of Ireland, and 15 natives of Italy.—The Irish are principally laborers, while the Italians are organ grinders, beggars, &c.; the natives of New York and other Americans are generally the children of foreign parents.—New York paper.

Three sudden deaths are mentioned at Philadelphia on Monday, from fatigue and the heat, besides a large number of faintings of ladies and others, during the Taylor funeral procession. The Ledger says:

We regret to have to record two cases of sun-stroke. An unknown man was carried to the hospital, about 3 o'clock, in a speechless condition, and expired about 7 o'clock. He was a fine, healthy looking man, nearly six feet in height, about twenty-five or thirty years of age, and had dark hair. The second case was that of a German, about thirty years of age, brought to the hospital under precisely similar circumstances. He was still alive at a late hour last evening, but appeared to be in a dying condition.

Judge Lynch.—At Indianapolis, (Ind.) lately, a man named Moorehouse was tried and acquitted on a charge of assault with intent to kill his son. Thereupon, a public meeting of about 200 persons was held, and he was warned to leave the place, which he did immediately.

Cost of Squeezing a Lady's Hand.—A man in Pittsburg has been fined by the Mayor $1,724, for squeezing a young lady's hand.

The Female Medical College of Pennsylvania has been duly organized by the appointment of able Professors in the various departments. The lectures will commence in Philadelphia in October next.

Five Children at a Birth.—We are informed by a correspondent that the wife of a man, named John P——, residing near Little Falls, was on Monday, July 22d, safely delivered of five children at one birth, all boys, and that they are all doing well.—Beat this who can.—Albany Express.

Inviolability of a Church.—The Supreme Court of the third judicial district of New York has decided that an action on the case lies against a railroad company in favor of a church corporation for a nuisance, in running cars and engines, ringing bells, blowing off steam, and making other noises in the neighborhood of a church or meeting house, on the Sabbath and during public worship, which so annoy and molest the congregation worshipping there as greatly to depreciate the value of the house and render it unfit for a place of public worship.

Late from Europe.

The steamship Canada arrived at Halifax on Wednesday, with 125 passengers from Liverpool, bringing dates to the 20th.—There appears to be but little of interest from Europe. At the last dates, the American fleet was still off the port of Lisbon, but the papers furnish no news relative to the difficulty between Portugal and the U. States.

The splendid American steamer Pacific arrived at Liverpool on the 17th, having made her passage in ten days and twelve hours from New York!

A fatal result from the gross carelessness of an apothecary occurred in Boston last Thursday. James D. Hall, assistant assessor of ward eleven, suffering from a slight feverish turn, received from Dr. Coale a prescription for a dose of calomel, which was taken to an apothecary's shop and put up by the proprietor himself. Mr. Hall, soon after taking the medicine, began to vomit violently, and sensible that there was something wrong, sent word to the apothecary, who, on examination, found that he had mistaken the prescription for corrosive sublimate. Mr. Hall lingered for a day or two, but the operation of the poison could not be arrested, and death supervened. A post mortem examination was made, and the fact was clearly established that the poison was the cause of his death. We subjoin the prescription of the physician for calomel, with one for corrosive sublimate—"Sub Muriate Hydar. 10." For corrosive sublimate—"Muriate Hydar. Fost." In England, such cases are considered in the light of manslaughter, and in one instance there of very gross carelessness, resulting in death, an apothecary was sent to Botany Bay, and in this city, within a few years, an apothecary's clerk was indicted for this crime, convicted and imprisoned.—N. Y. Courier.

A melancholy event occurred at Shreveport, La., on the 16th July.—While Mr. Catoir was giving an exhibition of fire-works, (the bombardment of Vera Cruz being the subject of representation,) his assistant becoming frightened, let his fire fall upon a pile of rockets, which exploded immediately, flying in all directions through the assembled crowd, one of them striking Miss Cecilia Leonard, a very accomplished young lady of our town, and piercing her right eye, passed through her head, mangling and killing her in the most horrible manner. She expired immediately afterwards.

Singular Suicide.—A housewright, named Francis Dilloway, committed suicide on Thursday afternoon, by shooting himself through the head, in the belfry of Chauncey Place Church, Boston. He had lately been defeated in a law suit, and was much depressed in spirits in consequence, which probably led to the fatal act. An ivory tablet was found in his pocket containing the following words:—

"I go where the wicked cease from troubling,
Where the weary are at rest,
And where Juries render honest verdicts."

Mr. Dilloway was in his 40th year, had a wife and six children, was always esteemed as an industrious temperate man, and leaves property to the value of $15,000.

Small Notes—Small Notes!—Our readers will bear in mind, that on and after the 21st of August, the law prohibiting the circulation of notes under the denomination of $5, issued by banks out of this State, will be in operation throughout this Commonwealth. The penalties are severe for a violation of the law, to wit:—The passing or receiving of foreign small notes by a corporate body, subjects it to a penalty of $500; by any public officer, $100; and by a private citizen, $25—one-half of which goes to the informer. The act of passing or receiving small notes is also made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $1 to $100. The subject is brought under the cognizance of grand juries, and constables are made witnesses to prosecute violations.

We have a notion that the law will be but partially enforced, though we think every good citizen should lend his assistance to see it carried completely into effect; still, such is the custom of our people to use these notes, and so convenient have they become in the transaction of our business, that we apprehend some trouble, and the infliction of some fines, before the law will have full sway. The Relief notes, so called, will of course pass as freely as ever, the enactment in question having reference only to small notes of other States.—Germ. Tel.

Parricide.—On Tuesday, 16th ult., at Lafayette, Ia., a negro driver undertook to chastise his daughter, a girl about 15 years of age, who, after receiving a few cuts, seized a knife, and plunged it into her father's heart. The youthful parricide was surrendered to the legal authorities.

Old Settler.—Capt. Osborn, of the ship Marcus, of Fairhaven, states, in a letter, that he found a terrapin on one of the Gallipagos Islands, that had the year 1630 marked upon his shell.

It is stated in the latest intelligence received from the Sandwich Islands, that one hundred tons of water pipes, cement and other appliances for conducting pure water from the valley into the city of Honolulu, had been received by a recent arrival from Boston.

Sal.—More than one-eighth part of the exports of the United States are furnished by the State of Alabama, a State which thirty-five years ago had no existence, and was chiefly an uninhabited wilderness.

Death of Gen. Mason.—We regret to record the death of Brevet Brigadier General Richard B. Mason, of the United States Army, who died at St. Louis, on the 25th ult. of cholera.—Gen. M. served long and gallantly in our army, and was in Mexico during most of the war.

Mr. Fillmore, we see it stated, has two brothers, who for some time past resided near Washtenaw county, Michigan—one a house carpenter, the other a blacksmith, by trade. He has a sister in Michigan, the wife of Mr. Harris, of Coldwater, a [illegible] Northern Indiana. He visited them all last summer.

She Told Her Mother.—A teacher of one of the public schools in New York, invited one of his pupils, a handsome young girl, to elope with him, promising to provide every thing for the journey. The young lady properly told her mother, and the old lady equally as properly saluted his head with the tongs when he called for his expected bride.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Eloquent and Patriotic.

The following is the peroration of Mr. Clay's recent eloquent speech in the Senate, on the Compromise bill for settling the distracting slavery and territorial subject:

"Mr. President: What is an individual man? An atom, almost invisible without a magnifying glass—a mere speck upon the surface of the immense universe—not a second in time compared to immeasurable, never-beginning and never-ending eternity—a drop of water in the great deep, which evaporates and is borne off by the winds—a grain of sand, which is soon gathered to the dust from whence it sprung. Shall a being so small, so petty, so fleeting, so evanescent, oppose itself to the onward march of a great nation, to subsist for ages and ages to come—to oppose itself to that long line of posterity which, issuing from our loins, will endure during the existence of the world? Forbid it, God! Let us look at our country and our course—elevate ourselves to the dignity of pure and disinterested patriots—of wise and enlightened statesmen—and save our country from all impending dangers. What, if in the march of this nation to greatness and power, we should be buried beneath the wheels that propel it onward—what are we—what is any man worth who is not ready and willing to sacrifice himself for the benefit of his country when it is necessary?

Now, Mr. President, allow me to make a short appeal to some Senators—to the whole of the Senate. There is my friend from Virginia, (Mr. Mason,) of whom I have never been without hopes. I have thought of the Revolutionary blood of George Mason, which runs in his veins—of the blood of his own father—of his own accomplished father—my friend, and cherished friend for many years. Can he, knowing, as I think he must know, the wishes of the people of his own State—can he, with the knowledge he possesses of the public sentiment there, and of the high obligation cast upon him by his noble ancestry, can he hazard Virginia's greatest and most glorious work; that work, at least, which she perhaps, more than any other State, contributed her moral and political power to erect—can he put at hazard this noble Union, with all its beneficent effects and consequences, in the pursuit of abstractions and metaphysical theories—objects unattainable or impossible in their nature—while the honor of our own native State, which I reverence and respect with as much devotion as he does—while the honor of that State, and the honor of the South are preserved unimpaired by this measure? I appeal, sir, to the Senators from Rhode Island and from Delaware, my little friends, which have stood by me, and by which I have stood in all the vicissitudes of my political life, two glorious, patriotic little States, which, if there is to be a breaking up of the waters of this Union, will be swallowed up in the common deluge and left without support. Will they hazard that Union which is their strength, their power, and their greatness? Let such an event as I have alluded to occur, and where will be the sovereign power of Delaware and Rhode Island?

If this Union shall become separated, new Unions, new Confederacies will arise, and I hope there is no one in the Senate before whose imagination is flitting the idea of a great Southern Confederacy to take possession of the Balize and the mouth of the Mississippi; I say in my place, never! never!! Never will we who occupy the head waters of the Mississippi consent that any foreign flag shall float at the Balize or upon the turrets of the Crescent City, never! never!! I call upon all the South, since we have had hard words, bitter words, bitter thoughts, unpleasant feelings towards each other in the progress of this great measure. Let us forget them.—Let us sacrifice these feelings. Let us go to the altar of our country and swear the oath that was taken of old, that we will stand by her, we will support her, that we will uphold her Constitution, that we will preserve her Union, and that we will carry this great comprehensive healing system of measures which will hush all the jarring elements, and bring peace and tranquility to our homes. Let me, Mr. President, in conclusion, say, that the most disastrous consequences would occur, in my opinion, were we to go home without doing anything to satisfy and tranquilize the country upon these great questions. What will be the judgment of mankind? What the judgment of that portion of mankind who are looking upon the progress of this self-government as being that which holds out the highest hopes and expectation of ameliorating the condition of mankind? What will their judgment be—will not all the monarchs of the Old World pronounce our glorious Republic a disgraceful failure? What will be the judgment of our constituents, when we return to them, and they ask us, how have you left your country? Is all quiet—is all happy—are all the seeds of distraction and dissunion crushed and dissipated?

And, sir, when you come into the bosom of your family, when you come to converse with the partner of your fortunes, of your happiness and your sorrows, and when in the midst of the common offspring of both of you, she asks you, is there any danger of civil war? Is there any danger of the torch being applied to any portion of the country? Have you settled the questions which you have been so long discussing and deliberating upon at Washington? Is all peace and all quiet? What response, Mr. President, can you make to that wife of your choice, and those children with whom you have been blessed by God? Will you go home, and leave all in disorder and confusion, all unsettled, all open? The contentions and agitations of the past will be increased and augmented by the agitation resulting from neglect to decide them. Sir, we shall stand condemned by all human judgment. We shall stand condemned in our own consciences, by our own constituents, by our own country. The measure may be defeated. I have been aware that its passage for many days was not absolutely certain. From the first to the last I hoped and believed it would pass, because, from the first to the last I believed it was founded on the principles of just and righteous concession—of mutual conciliation. I believe that it deals unjustly with no part of the Republic; that it saves our honor, and, as far as it is dependent on Congress, saves the interest of all quarters of the country.

But, sir, I have known that the decision of its fate depended upon four or five votes in the Senate of the United States, and upon whose ultimate judgment we could not count upon one side or the other with absolute certainty. Its fate is now committed to the hands of the Senate, and to those five or six to which I have referred. It may be defeated. It is possible that, for the chastisement of our sins or transgressions, the rod of Providence may be still applied to us—may be still suspended over us. But if defeated, it will be a triumph of ultraism or impracticability—a triumph of a most extraordinary conjunction of extremes—a victory won by abolitionism—achieved by free soilism—the victory of discord and agitation over peace and tranquility—and I pray Almighty God, that it may not, in consequence of this inauspicious result, lead to most unhappy and disastrous consequences to this our beloved country. (Applause.)

The Census.

The month in which the person died.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.

The Funeral Pageant.—The funeral pageant to-day in honor of the late President of the United States was a magnificent affair. All business was suspended and, most of the stores closed. The procession was about four miles in length, and consumed one hour and thirty-five minutes in passing a given point. It is estimated that there were about six thousand persons in the column. The procession moved through the various streets designated, and in all respects was carried out precisely in accordance with the published programme. The city presented a mournful and imposing appearance. Throughout the entire route of the procession, public buildings, stores and dwellings were shrouded in sable. Flags were suspended at half mast everywhere, and minute guns were fired while the procession moved. Some of the buildings were draped in costly and beautiful style, displaying much good taste. The weather was exceedingly hot, the thermometer ranging from ninety to ninety-five. A number of persons were so overcome by the heat that they were compelled to leave the ranks. So far as we have been been able to learn, all passed off without accident or anything to interrupt the solemn ceremonies.

Horrid Accident.—On Thursday, as some men were engaged at Philadelphia hoisting a large lot of carboys of oil of vitriol out of the sloop Cayuga, the bottom of one gave way, and falling out upon the deck, its destructive contents were spilled over the vessel, and splashed upon one of the stevedores, John W. Hudson, who was burned in a horrid manner. The sufferer was held over the side of the vessel in the water until the fire, which was consuming his clothes and the flesh of his lower extremities, was extinguished. The vessel was set on fire, and the timbers a good deal blackened and charred before the flames were subdued.

☞Jenning's repeating rifle is one of the most effective, the most awful weapons of modern days. It discharges twenty-four balls in a minute, which take full effect at eight hundred yards. When one ball is fired, the gun is again instantly loaded, by a principle as simple as it is unfailing. Think of such a weapon in the hands of a thousand men!

Influence of Rum.—In a case before Mayor Jones, the other day, of a wife who was called upon to testify against her husband, said that when sober he was a perfect gentleman, he's been the ruin of he was drunk! Could language more forcibly describe the effect of ardent spirits?

Burglary.

The shop of Mr. ALEXANDER FRAZER, watch-maker, of this place, was entered sometime in the night of Thursday last, and robbed of Jewelry, and other valuables, to the amount of probably $200. As yet, there is no clew which leads to the detection of the villain.

☞Mr. Frazer has offered a reward of $50 for the detection of the thief or thieves.

POSTSCRIPT.

☞A man calling himself HARVEY WRIGHT, was arrested at Dillstown, on Saturday evening, on suspicion of being the guilty person. He was brought to this place last night, and committed to the lock-up, where he now is. He was identified by Mr. Frazer as a stranger who had been several times in his shop on the day of the robbery, pricing jewelry, &c.

☞We learn that the store of Lilly and Reiley, in New Oxford, was broken into on Wednesday night; but the villains succeeded in getting but a small amount in change. Householders would do well to be on their guard, as it is evident there are rogues about.

☞A young man, named THEODORE SCHLEFFER, aged about 21 years, who lately was in the employ of Mr. Valentine Werner, of this town, was drowned, whilst bathing in Jones' Falls, near Baltimore, on the afternoon of Sunday the 28th ult.

☞The semi-annual interest on the State debt, which was due on Thursday last, was promptly paid in Philadelphia on that day, by Gen. Bickle, the State Treasurer.

☞The Hon. JAMES COOPER is to deliver the address at the opening of the third annual exhibition of the Maryland Institute, at Baltimore, in October next.

☞Hon. ROBERT C. WINTHROP has been appointed U. S. Senator by the Governor and Council of Massachusetts, in place of Mr. Webster. There are now three vacancies in Congress from that State—Mr. Winthrop's district; Mr. King's, who lately died; and in the 4th, where there have been several failures to elect.

☞During the terrific thunder storm of last night week, the barns of Mr. Clark, Mr. Martin, and Mr. Westhafer, in Cumberland county, and rumor says two others, also the barn of Abraham Fleming, in York county, were struck by lightning, and consumed with all their contents. The dwelling house of Mr. Seavers, residing near Centreville, Cumberland co., was struck by lightning, and his son, a young man 18 years of age, sitting on the porch, was instantly killed. During the same storm, Mr. Hiram Baughman, of Georgetown, Lancaster county, was killed by lightning. He had retired to bed in company with his wife, and while lying by her side, the fluid passed down the chimney, killing him, but leaving her unharmed.

Tremendous Fire.

A fire broke out in Oswego, N. Y., on Tuesday morning last, which destroyed a large block of valuable buildings; and the loss is estimated at half a million of dollars.

☞A fire broke out on Thursday night week, in Strasburg, Franklin county, which destroyed seven buildings before it was subdued. It broke out in Keasey's Hotel.

☞There was a severe gale among the West India Islands on the 12th and 13th of July. Two brigs were cast away, and 20 lives lost.

The Compromise Bill Defeated!

It is with regret we announce that the Compromise bill, as reported by the Committee of Thirteen, of which Mr. Clay was chairman, and which has been so ably defended by him for months, failed on Wednesday, not by a direct vote, but by striking out of it all its main features, and leaving the bill only to provide for a territorial government for Utah. In this shape it passed the Senate on Thursday. The loss of the bill is owing to Senator Pearce, of Md., who was previously a friend of the measure; but offered an amendment which threw off the Texas Senators, and lost the bill. His course is severely denounced in Maryland, and will bring down upon him a burst of indignation.

On Thursday, Mr. Douglass offered two motions—the first to take up the independent California bill, making it a special order, the second making it the special order for Friday and every day following until disposed of—both of which carried, the former by a majority of 11, while the latter was agreed to without a division—although Mr. Foote was anxious that this all important and long neglected bill should be postponed to a Texas and New Mexico bill, intimating that it would otherwise be defeated in the House by "parliamentary modes" of tactics, of which the country has heretofore witnessed some samples. The Senate, however, proceeded to the consideration of the bill, when an interesting discussion arose, in which Mr. Clay took a prominent part, declaring, in a dignified manner, his regret for the loss of the Compromise bill, which he deemed a measure that would have proved a healing one, but avowing, in a still more lofty style and noble spirit, that if any State or the people of any State should attempt the threatened game of rebellion, "he was for testing the strength of our Government," while he would stand by, against all disunionists, as long as he had an arm or a voice to raise in its service—a patriotic declaration, which drew down applause from the galleries, demanding all the resolution of the presiding officer for its suppression.

Mr. Clay referred, with some feeling, to the loss of the bill as having been caused by Mr. Pearce, of Maryland, who replied with a good deal of decision, and some sharpness, intimating, with equal truth and force, that the failure was attributable to the absurd obstinacy of the Texas Senators, who lost every thing by refusing to accept any boon short of an absolute surrender to all their demands.

Messrs. Mason and Butler made disunion speeches, when Mr. Foote rose, and in a strain of unequalled wit, sarcasm and withering persiflage, came down upon the disunion sentiments of South Carolina and the demagogue, Rhett, whose school-boy oratory it is attempted by some gentlemen to pass off for statesmanlike wisdom. Mr. Foote was inimitable and kept the Senate in a continued roar with his power of ridicule. He is decidedly the best debater in either House, and avowed Union sentiments which cover him with eternal honor.

☞President Fillmore has left the Executive mansion, and taken up his residence on the Heights of Georgetown, on account of the unhealthy condition of the former. The cellars and lower part of the house are always in a very bad condition, and we observe that a resolution passed the Senate on Monday for a proper drainage of the grounds around the building.

☞Mr. BATES has declined the situation of Secretary of War, which had been tendered him by the President. It is thought Judge SHARKEY, of Miss. will go into the Cabinet.

Terrible Steamboat Explosion on Lake Erie!

The splendid steamer America, from Sandusky, bound to Buffalo, burst her steam-pipe on Wednesday morning last, about 60 miles from the latter city. Twenty-seven persons were scalded, of whom nine are dead, and six or eight others badly, perhaps mortally, wounded. She was a new boat and a regular packet. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

Dreadful Railroad Accident.

On Tuesday last, as a freight train of seventeen cars were crossing a bridge on the New York and Erie Railroad, the bridge gave away, and the whole train were precipitated into the ravine, and smashed to pieces. There were on board 500 sheep, 100 head of cattle, and 200 hogs, all of which were lost. Five persons were killed. The bridge was forty feet high. The ravine was completely filled up with the wrecked cars and dead and wounded cattle, presenting a most lamentable scene. The loss by this disaster, it is thought, will not fall far short of 200,000.

☞The stage broke through the Northumberland Canal bridge near Danville, Pa. on Thursday morning last, by which accident Benjamin D. Jones was killed, and ten other passengers very badly injured. Two of the horses were killed.

☞Gen Jose Antonio Paez, formerly President of Venezuela, and one of the founders of that Republic, whence he has been recently exiled, arrived in Philadelphia from St Thomas last Friday. He comes to this country, it is stated, with a view to making it his future residence.

☞The cholera has broken out in Pittsburg. Ten fatal cases were reported on Wednesday, and six on Thursday.

☞In Mount Sterling, Ky., there have been 20 deaths, out of 150 of a population, by cholera.

☞A little girl in Baltimore, daughter of Mr. Crofts, residing on Pennsylvania Avenue, came to her death on Tuesday in consequence of drinking some spirits of wine. Her brother had been endeavoring to inflate a paper balloon, and had some of the dangerous fluid in a cup by him, when the girl took it up and swallowed it. She died in a few hours afterwards.

☞The Convention which has been in session at Columbus, Ohio, for some time past, and which recently took a recess until the weather became cooler, is said to have cost the State upwards of $31,000. It is also said that not a single provision of the new Constitution has been definitely settled.

For the "Adams Sentinel."

TO MISS LOU.

A CONFESSION.

I love thee more than prattling* streams,
That bathe the feet of bending flowers,
Whose notes as soft as lovers' dreams,
Call Echo from her wood-bine bowers.

I love thee more than woodland shades,
Where birds from boughs with love complain,
Or breaks the light of sunny glades,
The darkness of the forest's reign.

I love thee more than oriental gales,
That waft the sweets of flowers on od'rous wings,
And breathe in melting tones the softest wails
That ever trembled from Æolian strings.

I love thee more than sunset hours,
When Day, with blush of crimson dye,
Before the sable monarch cowers,
And yields to quiet shades the sky.

I love thee more than twilight hours,
When purple Eve, with nimble step,
Breathes o'er the fields and o'er the flowers,
And spreads her veil with stars beset.

I love thee more than moonlight walks,
When thoughts, on lofty pinions, fly
To every ghostly cloud that stalks
And star that burns, in yon blue sky.

I love thee more than youthful dreams
Of Glory, Wealth, and proud Renown,
Which wreathe the brow of Time with beams,
That hide from view the lurking frown.

Dear Lou, a sad confession this!
But this has set my bosom free:
And hence, whene'er I dream of bliss,
'T will be a dream of Love and thee.

But learn that Worth, not Beauty's art—
Though charms like thine are few and rare—
Has fixed thy image in my heart,
To shine a star forever there.

PENN. COLLEGE.

*Purling streams, we suppose, are meant. but we go "according to copy."

☞Hon. HENRY CLAY was to leave Washington on Saturday for the North, to spend a couple of weeks for the purpose of recruiting his health after his recent arduous labors in the Senate.

☞Com. JONES, an old and distinguished officer of the Navy, was at the point of death on Saturday, at his residence in Philadelphia.

Gone to Reclaim Him.—Yesterday morning a very respectable and pretty looking lady, about 30 years of age, who had with her two children, one a bright and beautiful boy, eleven years of age, and the other a handsome rosy checked girl of seven, called in at our office, to obtain some information in reference to the routes West, which, to the best of our knowledge, we gave her.—She was married about twelve years ago, she told us, to a shoemaker in the city of New York, an active and industrious young man, about 21, who lived with her six years and a half, when, in the winter of 1845, he disappeared, and no trace of his whereabouts could be learned by the family he deserted. About two weeks ago, however, she learned that a man who answered his description was keeping a store in a small village in Indiana, and paying his addresses to a lovely girl. His wife at once took her blooming children, and determined to go after the runaway husband and endeavor to reclaim him.—Albany Knick.

The Old Brewery.—The census, which is now being taken, reveals the fact that the population of the building known as the Old Brewery, on the Five Points, comprises 220 regular lodgers, consisting of 32 families; of whom 154 persons are natives of Ireland, 49 of Italy, 12 of the State of New York, 3 of Pennsylvania, 2 of Canada, and 1 of the State of Georgia. Of these there are 68 persons above the age of 20 years who cannot read or write—53 of them natives of Ireland, and 15 natives of Italy.—The Irish are principally laborers, while the Italians are organ grinders, beggars, &c.; the natives of New York and other Americans are generally the children of foreign parents.—New York paper.

☞Three sudden deaths are mentioned at Philadelphia on Monday, from fatigue and the heat, besides a large number of faintings of ladies and others, during the Taylor funeral procession. The Ledger says:

We regret to have to record two cases of sun-stroke. An unknown man was carried to the hospital, about 3 o'clock, in a speechless condition, and expired about 7 o'clock. He was a fine, healthy looking man, nearly six feet in height, about twenty-five or thirty years of age, and had dark hair. The second case was that of a German, about thirty years of age, brought to the hospital under precisely similar circumstances. He was still alive at a late hour last evening, but appeared to be in a dying condition.

Judge Lynch.—At Indianapolis, (Ind.) lately, a man named Moorehouse was tried and acquitted on a charge of assault with intent to kill his son. Thereupon, a public meeting of about 2000 persons was held, and he was warned to leave the place, which he did immediately.

Cost of Squeezing a Lady's Hand.—A man in Pittsburg has been fined by the Mayor $1,72½, for squeezing a young lady's hand.

☞The Female Medical College of Pennsylvania has been duly organized by the appointment of able Professors in the various departments. The lectures will commence in Philadelphia in October next.

Five Children at a Birth.—We are informed by a correspondent that the wife of a man, named John P. ——, residing near Little Falls, was on Monday, July 22d, safely delivered of five children at one birth, all boys, and that they are all doing well.—Beat this who can.—Albany Expres.

Incredibility of a Church.—The Supreme Court of the third judicial district of New York, has decided that an action on the case lies against a railroad company in favor of a church corporation for a nuisance, in running cars and engines, ringing bells, blowing off steam, and making other noises in the neighborhood of a church or meeting house, on the Sabbath and during public worship, which so annoy and molest the congregation worshipping there as greatly to depreciate the value of the house and render it unfit for a place of public worship.

Late from Europe.

The steamship Canada arrived at Halifax on Wednesday, with 125 passengers from Liverpool, bringing dates to the 20th.—There appears to be but little of interest from Europe. At the last dates, the American fleet was still off the port of Lisbon, but the papers furnish no news relative to the difficulty between Portugal and the U. States.

The splendid American steamer Pacific arrived at Liverpool on the 17th, having made her passage in ten days and twelve hours from New York!

☞A fatal result from the gross carelessness of an apothecary occurred in Boston last Thursday. James D. Hall, assistant assessor of ward eleven, suffering from a slight feverish turn, received from Dr. Ceale a prescription for a dose of calomel, which was taken to an apothecary's shop and put up by the proprietor himself. Mr. Hall, soon after taking the medicine, began to vomit violently, and sensible that there was something wrong, sent word to the apothecary, who, on examination, found that he had mistaken the prescription for corrosive sublimate. Mr. Hall lingered for a day or two, but the operation of the poison could not be arrested, and death supervened. A post mortem examination was made, and the fact was clearly established that the poison was the cause of his death. We subjoin the prescription of the physician for calomel, with one for corrosive sumlimate—Sub. Muriate Hydar. 10." For corrosive sublimate—"Muriate Hydar. Fost." In England, such cases are considered in the light of manslaughter, and in one instance there of very gross carelessness, resulting in death, an apothecary was sent to Botany Bay, and in this city, within a few years, an apothecary's clerk was indicted for this crime, convicted and imprisoned.—N. Y. Courier.

☞A melancholy event occurred at Shreveport, La, on the 16th July.

While Mr. Catoir was giving an exhibition of fire-works, (the bombardment of Vera Cruz being the subject of representation,) his assistant becoming frightened, let his fire fall upon a pile of rockets, which exploded immediately, flying in all directions through the assembled crowd, one of them striking Miss Cecilia Leonard, a very accomplished young lady of our town, and piercing her right eye, passed through her head, mangling and killing her in the most horrible manner. She expired immediately afterwards.

Singular Suicide.—A housewright, named Francis Dilloway, committed suicide on Thursday afternoon, by shooting himself through the head, in the belfry of Chauncey Place Church, Boston. He had lately been defeated in a law suit, and was much depressed in spirits in consequence, which probably led to the fatal act. An ivory tablet was found in his pocket containing the following words:—

"I go where the wicked cease from troubling,
Where the weary are at rest,
And where Juries render honest verdicts."

Mr. Dilloway was in his 40th year, had a wife and six children, was always esteemed as an industrious temperate man, and leaves property to the value of $15,000.

Small Notes—Small Notes!—Our readers will bear in mind, that on and after the 21st of August, the law prohibiting the circulation of notes under the denomination of $5, issued by banks out of this State, will be in operation throughout this Commonwealth. The penalties are severe for a violation of the law, to wit:—The passing or receiving of foreign small notes by a corporate body, subjects it to a penalty of $500; by any public officer, $100; and by a private citizen, $25—one-half of which goes to the informer. The act of passing or receiving small notes is also made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $1 to $100. The subject is brought under the cognizance of grand juries, and constables are made witnesses to prosecute violations.

We have a notion that the law will be but partially enforced, though we think every good citizen should lend his assistance to see it carried completely into effect; still, such is the custom of our people to use these notes, and so convenient have they become in the transaction of our business, that we apprehend some trouble, and the infliction of some fines, before the law will have full sway. The Relief notes, so called, will of course pass as freely as ever, the enactment in question having reference only to small notes of other States.—Germ. Tel.

Parricide.—On Tuesday, 16th ult., at Lafayette, La., a negro driver undertook to chastise his daughter, a girl about 15 years of age, who, after receiving a few cuts, seized a knife, and plunged it into her father's heart. The youthful parricide was surrendered to the legal authorities.

Old Settler.—Capt. Osborn, of the ship Marcus, of Fairhaven, states, in a letter, that he found a terrapin on one of the Gallipagos Islands, that had the year 1630 marked upon his shell.

☞It is stated in the latest intelligence received from the Sandwich Islands, that one hundred tons of water pipes, cement and other appliances for conducting pure water from the valley into the city of Honolulu, had been received by a recent arrival from Boston.

Salt.—More than one-eighth part of the exports of the United States are furnished by the State of Alabama, a State which thirty-five years ago had no existence, and was chiefly an uninhabited wilderness.

Death of Gen. Mason.—We regret to record the death of Brevet Brigadier General Richard B. Mason, of the United States Army, who died at St. Louis, on the 25th ult. of cholera.—Gen. M. served long and gallantly in our army, and was in Mexico during most of the war.

☞Mr. Fillmore, we see it stated, has two brothers, who for some time past resided near Washtenaw county, Michigan—one a house carpenter, the other a blacksmith, by trade. He has a sister in Michigan, the wife of Mr. Harris, of Coldwater, a lawyer by profession, and another sister married in Northern Indiana. He visited them all last summer.

She Told Her Mother.—A teacher of one of the public schools in New York, invited one of his pupils, a handsome young girl, to elope with him, promising to provide every thing for the journey. The young lady properly told her mother, and the old lady equally as properly saluted his head with the tongs when he called for his expected bride.
